Ike Takes Complete Rest As 'Slowdown' Ordered

President May Delay Decision On 1956 Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—President Eisenhower took a complete rest today under "slowdown" orders from his doctors which may well influence his decision on whether to run again.

A new medical report, disclosing that the physicians are unhappy over his work load, carried weighty implications for the Republican top command and the GOP's 1956 campaign plans.

DEMANDS MONEY—Claiming she has stayed away from romance, liquor and tobacco as requested in an odd will, Miss Frances Miller, 48, has filed a petition in Los Angeles Superior Court to collect $300 a month. The terms were in the will of Percy T. Martin, who died in April, 1952, at the age of 76. He had two fiancées at the time, Miss Miller and Mrs. Helen Dill, 53, now a resident of Illinois. Mrs. Dill started collecting her $300 a month two months ago, under similar conditions. (Central Press)

Soviet Leaders Stir Up Sleeping Kashmir Issue

NEW DELHI, India, Dec. 11 (AP)—Russia's traveling salesman flew back to India's capital today for a two-day visit in the north during which they vigorously stirred up the sleeping Kashmir controversy.

Again it was blunt, forceful Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev who aired the views of his country on the vexing Kashmir problem in a manner likely to create new white-hot tension between India and Pakistan.

Indian Strategy Upset

Welcome as were his words to the general mass of Indian people, it appears they fell on most unhappy ears at the government level. India's strategy on winning Kashmir has been to avoid open conflict with Pakistan while at the same time consolidating its own political and economic control over the disputed northern province.

Kashmir's population is predominantly Moslem but the state's Hindu maharaja acceded to India in 1947. Since 1949 the state has been split by a U.N. cease-fire line.

Nehru Remains Silent

Now Khrushchev, by declaring Kashmir belongs to India and Pakistan should in effect shut up about the whole thing, seems likely to have provoked a new period of bitterness and tense relations. Grim-faced Prime Minister Nehru had no public comment on the developments when he flew home from south India to spend the next 48 hours with his Russian guests.

Government sources said there would be no official reaction to Khrushchev's speech—at least until the Russians are out of the country.

TWU Directors Vote To Remain In AFL-CIO

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Directors of the CIO Transport Workers Union have voted 37-7 in favor of remaining in the merged organization, union President Michael Quill announced today.

Quill, formerly an outspoken opponent of the merger, said he would support the majority decision which was made by the TWU international executive council and executive board.

The union's general membership has yet to vote on staying in the central labor organization, but Quill expressed belief the workers will go along with the executives' verdict. The general vote will be held in about one month.

Adlai Backed By Montana's Sen. Murray

Stevenson's Drive For Dixie Support Apparently Lagging

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Sen. Murray (D-Mont.) pledged his support to Adlai E. Stevenson today in Stevenson's bid for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

But there were indications that despite Murray's assurance Montana's 16 convention votes would go to him, Stevenson was not making as much progress as some of his friends had hoped in another area—the South.

Stevenson shot some ducks and talked politics in Arkansas over the weekend. His conferees included Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus, Sens. Fulbright and McClellan, Arkansas Democrats, Sparkman of Alabama, his 1952 running mate, and Rep. Oren Harris of Arkansas.

Dixie Still Hostile

But the arrival in Washington of some other Southern Democratic leaders provided no signals that the Dixie hostility which cost Stevenson four states in that area three years ago had abated materially.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), who said recently he thought Stevenson was far in front for the nomination, said he believes it is too early now to make any forecasts on what the South will do.

Russell was a candidate for the 1952 nomination and rolled up 268 votes—mostly from the South—on the first ballot that year. He has said he won't run again. He has suggested Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio as a good dark horse possibility.

Adlai May Enter Fla. Primary

Although he wouldn't talk about it, Russell is understood to believe sentiment in the South still is extremely fluid in the nomination race. It appeared to be his feeling that it will be weeks, or possibly months, before Southern leaders decide what direction they want to take.

Stevenson and former Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell have been wooing the South ever since 1952. They seemed to believe they had made enough progress that Stevenson was reported on the point of entering the May 29 Florida primary to test his strength.

Inquiry Into Lee "Ouster" Urged

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Charles Parker, executive director of the National Aviation Trades Assn., today urged a congressional investigation of what he called the "ouster" of Frederick B. Lee as head of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

President Eisenhower accepted Lee's resignation from the $15,000-a-year job yesterday and appointed Charles J. Lowen Jr., now deputy CAA administrator, to succeed him.

"I'm amazed that the Eisenhower administration, with all its talk of fair play, would stoop to such a thing," Parker told a reporter.

"As a good Republican, I'm going to do everything I can to get the Democrats in Congress to investigate this situation and find out the reason for Lee's ouster."

Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash.) already has proposed an inquiry into reports that Lee was being pressured out of office by Department of Commerce officials. CAA members under the jurisdiction of the Commerce Department.

Last week the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Assn. expressed "serious concern" at reports that Lee, a career employee of 16 years with CAA, was being squeezed out. Lee, 49, is a Vermont. He has been CAA administrator since March 1953.

"Every one of my family ought to be in the hospital," he sobbed to rescuers. "They're sick from pneumonia and starving."

While on the tower, Beck tossed down a letter addressed to him from Gov. Raymond Gary's office assuring him their plight would be looked into. The family lives in Guthrie, north of here.

Fire Sweeps Building In Midtown Miami

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—A spectacular fire in midtown Miami today destroyed a building adjoining the Roberts Hotel and drove 90 guests to the street. No one was injured, although several persons were made ill by dense smoke.

Chief J. W. Davis of the Fire Prevention Bureau estimated the damage at $200,000.

World's Largest Bulb Turned On

Sam Little (left), 13, wields an "atomic pistol" to turn on a 75,000-watt bulb, the world's largest, and signal the opening of the International Atomic Congress and Exposition at Cleveland. Gamma rays from the pistol hit a Geiger counter at the lamp's base, activating it. With Sam is his brother, Revere Little, 11. Sporting space helmets, the boys are descendants of Paul Revere, an early lamp lighter.

Legislators Say Automation Will Cause Hardship

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—A congressional study group said today many persons will suffer hardships with the advance of automation to a level which "may well surpass the limits of modern imagination."

It said, however, that "no specific broad-gauge economic legislation appears to be called for" now to cope with the problems of worker dislocation which it foresaw as inevitable.

Hearings Were Held

These findings were set forth in a report by a Senate-House Economic subcommittee headed by Rep. Patman (D-Tex.), which recently conducted a series of hearings on the impact of automation—new automatic and electrical processing. Witnesses included industrial and organized labor leaders as well as specialists from government and elsewhere.

The subcommittee reported that by far its most important suggestion is that public and private sources do everything possible to assure "a good, healthy, dynamic and prospering economy, so that those who lose out at one place as a consequence of progressive technology will have no difficulty in finding a demand for their services elsewhere in the economy."

Enormous Strides Seen

It recommended also that all levels of government and others "take very seriously to heart the need for a specific and broad program to promote secondary and higher education" in a move to combat what it called a dangerous shortage of scientists, technicians and skilled labor.

The group predicted enormous strides in automation, ranging from computers capable of solving complicated mathematical problems to electronic devices that will make assembly lines almost automatic.

But it said the resulting displacement of workers will be offset in part by the probable development of whole new industries and service personnel.

Sues Mom-In-Law For 'Interference'

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—A 72-year-old mother, accused of "pampering" her 42-year-old son, has been sued by her son's wife for alienation of affections.

Mrs. Grace Dire, 37, of suburban Maywood, asked $300,000 damages yesterday on the ground that her mother-in-law "persuaded" her husband, Joseph Dire Jr., to "desert and abandon" her.

The estranged wife said in her Superior Court suit that her marriage would have been happy "if it were not for the constant interference" of her mother-in-law. Mrs. Louise Dire of suburban Oak Park.

She charged that her husband's mother bought all his suits, gave him spending money and "encouraged him not to work or to support" his wife.

State Dept. Press Chief Succumbs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Henry Suydam, 64, press chief of the State Department and a veteran reporter and editor, was found dead in his bedroom today of a heart attack.

Suydam, called to his job by Secretary of State Dulles, had been director of the department's press section since Oct. 1, 1953.

Dulles praised him tonight for "great ability, coupled with a kindly personality and high sense of public duty."

Funeral services will be held here tomorrow, the day before Dulles takes off for Paris and a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council which the secretary had hoped Suydam also would be able to attend.

Suydam had taken a leave of absence from his position as chief editorial writer of the Newark (N.J.) Evening News at the request of Dulles and Asst. Secretary Carl W. McCord to fill the government position.

In his capacity as spokesman for the department he had accompanied Dulles to several international conferences.

George Predicts Trouble Ahead For Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today the Eisenhower administration is going to have difficulty getting Congress to approve strictly economic assistance in its $2,670,000,000 foreign aid program.

Heading back to Washington for a bipartisan White House conference Tuesday on the foreign and defense programs, George said in a telephone interview from Vienna, Ga., that he is confident there will be no balking in the Democratic Congress on foreign military aid.

"I think Congress as a whole is disposed to maintain military assistance on a reasonable level," George said. "But I don't think it is going too strong on economic aid."

Less Money To Be Asked

"Strictly economic aid is likely to encounter great difficulties, in my judgment."

George, as chief Democratic congressional spokesman on foreign policy matters, said he wants to examine the aid program in detail before he makes up his mind about the total amount involved.

Administration leaders have disclosed they will ask Congress to make $2,670,000,000 available in new money for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. This is $33,000,000 less than the $2,703,000,000 Congress appropriated for the current year.

Backlog Of Funds

However, there is a backlog of previously voted funds, and actual foreign aid spending this year is estimated at $4,387,000,000.

Of the new appropriations to be asked by Eisenhower, administration officials said $1,600,000,000 would be for economic, defense support and technical assistance. The remainder of slightly over a billion dollars would go into military assistance. There was no breakdown on strictly economic projects.

Strike Called Reprisal For Boat Attacks

Assault Launched Near Northern End Of Sea Of Galilee

JERUSALEM, Monday, Dec. 12 (AP)—Israeli troops staged a night attack on Syrian positions overlooking the northeast shore of the Sea of Galilee. Israel today they killed 50 Syrians and captured about 30.

JERUSALEM, Dec. 11 (AP)—Israeli troops tonight attacked Syrian army positions near the north end of the Sea of Galilee. Israel termed the raid a reprisal for Syrian attacks on her fishing vessels in the sea, a fresh-water lake fed by the River Jordan.

Machine gun fire and grenade explosions were heard plainly in Tiberias, an Israeli town midway along the western shore.

An Israeli army spokesman said fighting was continuing in the darkness. He said the attack was made across the Syrian frontier just north of where the Jordan River enters the sea. No further details were disclosed.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said the assault was launched after Syrian gunners fired on Israeli fishing vessels and a police escort launch.

Syrian Batteries Attacked

"Israeli forces advanced against the Syrian positions to silence the batteries responsible for the unprovoked attack, in order to avert further Syrian aggression and secure the security of Israeli citizens engaged in their lawful occupations," the spokesman said. "... Serious damage was caused to the police launch and only by chance were casualties avoided."

A Syrian spokesman earlier charged that two armored Israeli boats fired on two border villages for 15 minutes yesterday and then were forced to withdraw by Syrian fire. No casualties were reported.

The Sea of Galilee is at the southern end of the Israeli-Syrian border. About 13 miles long and three to seven miles wide, it lies 696 feet below sea level.

The sea has been famous as a fishing ground for centuries. Many events in the life of Jesus Christ took place on or near its shores. In his day there were nine flourishing towns around the lake. One of these, Tiberias, still remains.

Trouble also was reported further south in Israel.

"Infiltrators" Killed

An Israeli army spokesman said two "infiltrators" from Jordan were shot dead by an Israeli patrol today near Elath, at the tip of the Gulf of Aqaba. A third man who was wounded in the shooting was arrested.

But a Jordan military source declared U.N. truce observers had established that the victims were Moslem pilgrims returning by foot to their homes in Morocco on a visit to the holy city of Mecca, in Saudi Arabia.

The flareup on the Syrian-Israeli frontier came while Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian chief of the U.N. truce organization in Palestine, still was seeking a solution of the feud between Egypt and Israel over the El Aja demilitarized zone.

Attorney Faces Murder Charge

MERIDIAN, Tex., Dec. 11 (AP)—Sheriff Clark Royal said today he had filed charges of murder against Dallas attorney Norman Hamilton in the fatal shooting of Clarence Bethke, foreman of Hamilton's ranch, and that Hamilton had waived an examining trial.

He said Justice of the Peace J. A. F. Strickland had set Hamilton's bond at $10,000.

Hamilton, 53, meanwhile is being held in a hospital here for observation after being found dazed in the wreckage of his car near Lake Whitney yesterday.

His son, William, said his father was under sedatives. The son, an assistant U.S. district attorney at Dallas, answered all other questions about his father by saying, "I don't know."

Bethke, 28, was found shot to death yesterday afternoon in the kitchen of the main Hamilton ranch house near here by Mrs. Bethke.

The sheriff said that two cars customarily kept at the ranch were missing, but Hamilton's coat and hat were in the kitchen.

Fearful that Hamilton may have been kidnapped by the killer, Royal launched a hunt for the attorney.

Later Hamilton was found in a Hillsboro hospital. He had been taken there after his car overturned and plunged into a ditch.

Ike Takes Complete Rest As 'Slowdown' Ordered

President May Delay Decision On 1956 Plans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (P)—President Eisenhower took a complete rest today under "slowdown" orders from his doctors which may well influence his decision on whether to run again.

A new medical report, disclosing that the physicians are unhappy over his work load, carried weighty implications for the Republican top command and the GOP's 1956 campaign plans.

Also it focused new attention on the President's White House conference tomorrow for a preview of his State of the Union message with the highest-ranking GOP congressional leaders.

Two of these, Sens. Knowland of California, the Senate's minority leader, and Bridges of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Policy Committee, have been pressing for an early announcement of Eisenhower's personal political plans.

GOP Senators Give Views
Bridges said at Concord today he still is "hopeful" the President will speak out "shortly after Jan. 1."

But Sens. Ives (R-NY) and Watkins (R-Utah) said Republican presidential hopefuls must not "crowd" Eisenhower for an early decision. They said in separate interviews the President ought to have until mid-February—or later if necessary—to decide.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, Eisenhower's personal physician, said after a thorough physical checkup of the convalescing President Saturday he should withhold any decision until mid-February, at the earliest.

Sen. Watkins called the President "fair-minded" and predicted he would speak out in ample time and then added:

"I am sure the President feels a great responsibility to the country and to the world and if he feels it is possible, I think he will say he will run."

Appointments Stand
Ives said, "The sensible thing for the President to do is to take all the time he needs to decide whether he will run again."

The White House was virtually shut down today, in so far as business was concerned, and the President and Mrs. Eisenhower remained in seclusion in the residential section.

Murray Snyder, assistant White House press secretary, said the slowdown in the President's activities would not lead to cancellation of any of his appointments. These now include a meeting here with Britain's Prime Minister Anthony Eden late in January.

Four Die As Two Cars, Truck Crash
HAGERSTOWN, Md., Dec. 11 (P)—A woman and three children were killed tonight when two automobiles collided near here and one car careened into the path of a tractor-trailer truck.

Two men and three other children were injured in the three-way smashup at the intersection of U.S. 40 and Maryland 66, about five miles east of Hagerstown in Western Maryland.

State Trooper David Hasenbuehler said all the victims, except one of the men, were riding in the automobile which was struck by the truck after first colliding with another car.

Hasenbuehler said none of the dead was identified immediately. He said a driver's license found on the unconscious form of the man driving the car carrying the woman and six children bore the name of Warren G. Bowman, 34, Route 1, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Partial Cripple Is Coaxed Down From Lofly Perch
OKLAHOMA CITY, Dec. 11 (P)—him and notified general manager a partial cripple threw away his legger Edgar T. Bell who summoned hand 250 feet up a television tower.

Every one of my family ought to be in the hospital," he sobbed to rescuers. "They're sick from pneumonia and starving."

While on the tower, Beck tossed down a letter addressed to him by Gov. Raymond Gary's office. "I was the only way I could look into it," he said after-ward.

Beck, who suffers from rheumatism, used his crutches to scale a high fence surrounding the steel structure belonging to station troopers Ray Rich and Paul McKW.

An electric elevator, normally vator to talk to him. Beck crawled used by workmen to ascend the tower, was not operating when he level where he was caught. Beck made his climb. Tourists noticed did not struggle.

Strike Called Reprisal For Boat Attacks

Assault Launched Near Northern End Of Sea Of Galilee

JERUSALEM, Monday, Dec. 12 (P)—Israeli troops staged a night attack on Syrian positions overlooking the northeast shore of the Sea of Galilee, Maj. Dan Gov, army spokesman, said today they killed 50 Syrians and captured about 30.

JERUSALEM, Dec. 11 (P)—Israeli troops tonight attacked Syrian army positions near the north end of the Sea of Galilee. Israel termed the raid a reprisal for Syrian attacks on her fishing vessels in the sea, a fresh-water lake led by the River Jordan.

Machine gun fire and grenade explosions were heard plainly in Tiberias, an Israeli town midway along the western shore.

An Israeli army spokesman said fighting was continuing in the darkness. He said the attack was made across the Syrian frontier just north of where the Jordan River enters the sea. No further details were disclosed.

An Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman said the assault was launched after Syrian gunners fired on Israeli fishing vessels and a police escort launch.

Syrian Batteries Attacked
"Israeli forces advanced against the Syrian positions to silence the batteries responsible for the unprovoked attack, in order to avert further Syrian aggression and secure the security of Israeli citizens engaged in their lawful occupations," the spokesman said. "... Serious damage was caused to the police launch and only by chance were casualties avoided."

A Syrian spokesman earlier charged that two armored Israeli boats fired on two border villages for 15 minutes yesterday and then were forced to withdraw by Syrian fire. No casualties were reported.

The Sea of Galilee is at the southern end of the Israeli-Syrian border. About 13 miles long and three to seven miles wide, it lies 696 feet below sea level.

The sea has been famous as a fishing ground for centuries. Many events in the life of Jesus Christ took place on or near its shores. In his day there were nine flourishing towns around the lake. Only one of these, Tiberias, still remains.

Trouble also was reported further south in Israel.

"Infiltrators" Killed
An Israeli army spokesman said two "infiltrators" from Jordan were shot dead by an Israeli patrol today near Elath, at the tip of the Gulf of Aqaba. A third man who was wounded in the shooting was arrested.

But a Jordan military source declared U.N. truce observers had established that the victims were Moslem pilgrims returning by foot to their homes in Morocco from a visit to the holy city of Mecca, in Saudi Arabia.

The flareup on the Syrian-Israeli frontier came while Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, Canadian chief of the U.N. truce organization in Palestine, still was seeking a solution of the feud between Egypt and Israel over the El Ajza demilitarized zone.

Attorney Faces Murder Charge
MERIDIAN, Tex., Dec. 11 (P)—Sheriff Clark Royal said today he had filed charges of murder against Dallas attorney Norman Hamilton in the fatal shooting of Clarence Bethke, foreman of Hamilton's ranch, and that Hamilton had waived an examining trial.

He said Justice of the Peace J. A. F. Strickland had set Hamilton's bond at $10,000.

Hamilton, 33, meanwhile is being held in a hospital here for observation after being found dazed in the wreckage of his car near Lake Whitney yesterday.

His son, William, said his father was under sedatives. The son, an assistant U.S. district attorney at Dallas, answered all other questions about his father by saying, "I don't know."

Bethke, 28, was found shot to death yesterday afternoon in the kitchen of the main Hamilton ranch house near here by Mrs. Bethke.

The sheriff said that two cars customarily kept at the ranch were missing, but Hamilton's coat and hat were in the kitchen.

Fearful that Hamilton may have been kidnapped by the killer, Royal launched a hunt for the attorney.

Later Hamilton was found in a Hillsboro hospital. He had been taken there after his car overturned and plunged into a ditch.

State Police Increased Here

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP)—The State Police contingent in the Cumberland barracks will be increased so that new rules to prevent runaway trucks on Big Savage Mountain may be enforced.

Supt. Elmer F. Munshower said yesterday his department will require all trucks to stop before proceeding in low gear down the east slope of the mountain.

Last Oct. 19, the brakes failed on a big truck and it careened through Frostburg and into the outskirts of Cumberland before crashing into two vehicles. Five persons died.

As a result, a Mountain Traffic Safety Committee was formed, and took up the problem with legislators, police, the State Roads Commission and others.

Munshower said the State Roads Commission will erect signs requiring that trucks stop at the crest of the mountain and descend the east slope in low.

"It is the intention of this department to start immediate prosecution of those drivers who fail to obey the instructions set forth on the signs," said Munshower.

Lions To Meet

The regular weekly meeting of the Cumberland Lions Club will be held Wednesday at 12:15 p. m. in the Community Room of the YMCA. A musical program will be presented by the Allegany High School Octet, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Willison.

The Kiddles' Christmas Party, which was set for Monday, December 19, has been canceled. There will be a regular club meeting on Wednesday, December 21, at 12:15 at the YMCA.

U.N. Delegates Seek Decisions Next Five Days

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Dec. 11 (AP)—U.N. delegates trying to get the 10th General Assembly wound up next Friday will open a drive tomorrow to solve in five days what they haven't been able to in 10 years.

There was some scattered talk of a recess over Christmas and New Year's with the Assembly coming back early next year to clean up the question of new members if the Security Council doesn't do something definite Tuesday. The U.S. delegation said it knows nothing about a recess, however.

In an effort to finish the Assembly's work, day and night sessions were in prospect for the Political Committee, discussing disarmament; for the Trusteeship Committee which is talking about making a new nation out of African Togoland and the Gold Coast; and for the Assembly itself, which has a number of items up for final approval, as well as an election to break the deadlock on the last Security Council member to be named for next year.

The Assembly passed its first and target date Saturday with the Security Council stymied by Soviet suspicions on Western plans for voting a package deal to allow in 18 new members, including five Soviet satellites.

Delegates extended the Assembly session into the 13th week, hopeful but confused whether they can really get decisions in time for the sailing of the last big ship next Friday which would allow European delegates to get home for Christmas.

There has not even been a date set for the Assembly session this week which must break the deadlock between the Philippines and Yugoslavia for the third nonpermanent member of the Security Council for 1956-57.

Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand, who is chairman of the main Political Committee as well as Security Council president for December, insisted the committee must reach a decision Monday on conflicting Western, Soviet and Indian ideas on further disarmament studies.

A recess over the year's end would undoubtedly aggravate Nationalist China's position in the U.N. A resolution of the 10th Assembly barring debates on her status and the question of seating Red China expires Dec. 31.

The majority of U.N. members who voted in the Assembly last week to approve the 18-nation membership package deal would favor such a recess if it spelled a favorable result in the Security Council and solution of the membership problem early next year.

West Ministers Meet This Week To Chart Strategy

PARIS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Leaders of the Western world convene here this week to face up to the hard fact of the collapse of the spirit of Geneva and the renewal of the cold war.

The foreign, finance and defense ministers of the 15 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization open a three-day session Thursday. The foreign ministers of the Council of Europe's member states meet tomorrow and Tuesday, while the Council of Western European Union meets Wednesday.

In all these sessions a key issue will be: What should the West do now that the Soviet's smiling diplomacy of last summer has failed to produce any concrete concession on the outstanding questions of German reunification, disarmament and great East-West contract?

The NATO meeting is scheduled primarily for the organization's "annual review," which fixes defense targets for the coming year.

The review recounts what the governments have done for joint defense in the past year—what the goals were and whether the targets have been fulfilled. In view of the East West deadlock at Geneva last month, persons familiar with NATO opinion predict the 15 ministers will agree:

1. The West can have no faith in Russian affability—as displayed at the Geneva "summit" meeting—which is not backed up with definite action.

2. The West cannot afford to relax the buildup of a coordinated defense under Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe. The danger of Communist aggression is still present.

3. Although a speedup in the pace of this buildup might be desirable, public opinion in the West will not permit any sudden increase in military budgets.

Jeweler, Wife Bound, Robbed

AURORA, Ill., Dec. 11 (AP)—Two masked men armed with a revolver and a piece of pipe held a jeweler and his wife captive more than 12 hours and then fled today with jewelry worth between $55,000 and $60,000.

Joseph K. Fodor, 58, is owner and proprietor of a jewelry shop in this northern Illinois city. His wife, Nellie, 48, assists in the store.

Fodor told police he closed his shop at 5:30 last night. He visited a patient in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and his wife drove to their home about a mile distant.

In their home, Mrs. Fodor said, two men—one carrying a revolver and the other armed with a metal bar—accosted her.

They taped her wrists and demanded, on threats of death, the keys to the store and the combination of the shop safe. She gave them the combination and said her husband had the keys. The men, Mrs. Fodor said, then shoved her into a clothes closet on the ground floor.

Fodor returned to his home about 7:30 p.m. He, too, was taped. The marauders then demanded the keys and the safe combination, apparently to check with that given by Mrs. Fodor.

Detroit Kills Wife, Her Brother And Self

DETROIT, Dec. 11 (AP)—A Detroit man sprayed pistol bullets through a house crowded with nine people today, killing his estranged wife and brother-in-law and wounding his 15-year-old daughter before taking his own life.

Before he put a bullet in his own brain Arthur Jackson, 40, killed his wife, Vera, 36, and her brother Harold Brenner, 28, visiting his sister's home for the first time in a year, Police Detective Paul Montgomery said.

Montgomery said Jackson, a factory worker, and his wife had been estranged for several months and that she had recently obtained an injunction against his molesting her or her friends.

Four Die In Fire

BURNSVILLE, N.C., Dec. 11 (AP)—Four persons died and three others were burned when fire destroyed their log house near here early today.

The dead are Margaret Keener, 25; Virginia Keener, 19; Harold Keener, 13, and J. D. Keener, 10, all the children of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Keener, who escaped the flames with another child, Larry, 7.

Reds Free Gls, Ignoring Issue Of Sovereignty

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Russians never raised the issue of East German sovereignty during talks that led to release of two American soldiers in East Berlin, an American officer said today.

The soldiers, Pvt. Richard L. Calbert, 22, of Kansas City, Mo., and Pvt. Willie J. Holden, 19, Poplarville, Miss., were handed over to American authorities last night after being held since Wednesday on a charge of beating up a cabaret actor.

Taking their cue from the Communist press, U.S. authorities had feared from the first that the Russians would use the incident to demonstrate East Germany's newly asserted "sovereignty" in East Berlin, and might even insist on the men being tried in an East German court.

During the series of four American requests for release of the men, however, Soviet Deputy Commandant Ivan A. Kotsiuba never mentioned that angle, American officers said. He merely told the Americans the two soldiers had "misbehaved" and had beaten up an East German.

Florida Woman Dies In Pa. Turnpike Crash

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP)—A Florida woman was killed today as the auto she was driving served across the medial strip of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and crashed into an embankment.

State Police identified the woman as Katherine N. Anson, 53, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. She was riding alone.

The crash occurred about three miles east of the Pittsburgh interchange.

Lucky Accident Prevents Blast

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—A lucky accident which clogged a fuel line kept 600 gallons of high test gasoline, mistakenly put in a furnace tank, from blowing up yesterday.

Several hundred persons were evacuated from the South Side area as firemen drained the gasoline from a fuel oil storage tank.

The gasoline had been delivered Friday to a garage which also was expecting delivery of 600 gallons of fuel oil. By mistake the gasoline was put in the tank which automatically feeds the furnace.

Somehow, the fuel line into the furnace became clogged and the fire went out. The attendant on duty tried unsuccessfully to light it again.

12 Refugees Bound For Maryland Homes

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Twelve refugees of five different nationalities are due to arrive Wednesday, bound for homes in Maryland.

The refugees, part of a group of 126 being transported on the U.S. Navy ship The General Langfitt, have Germany, Romania, Russia, Yugoslavia and the former Free City of Danzig as countries of origin.

Bound for Westminster, Md. is Christof Oster, 42, a shoemaker from Yugoslavia. With him is his wife Eva, 37, and his 18-year-old daughter of the same name. Ralph E. D. Hull is the sponsor for the family, which comes through the endorsement of the Church World Service.

Catastrophe Averted

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP)—A truck loaded with five tons of dynamite collided with a crowded street car in Rome yesterday. Police said a catastrophe was averted because both vehicles were moving slowly.

Reds Free Gls, Ignoring Issue Of Sovereignty

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Russians never raised the issue of East German sovereignty during talks that led to release of two American soldiers in East Berlin, an American officer said today.

The soldiers, Pvt. Richard L. Calbert, 22, of Kansas City, Mo., and Pvt. Willie J. Holden, 19, Poplarville, Miss., were handed over to American authorities last night after being held since Wednesday on a charge of beating up a cabaret actor.

Taking their cue from the Communist press, U.S. authorities had feared from the first that the Russians would use the incident to demonstrate East Germany's newly asserted "sovereignty" in East Berlin, and might even insist on the men being tried in an East German court.

During the series of four American requests for release of the men, however, Soviet Deputy Commandant Ivan A. Kotsiuba never mentioned that angle, American officers said. He merely told the Americans the two soldiers had "misbehaved" and had beaten up an East German.

Florida Woman Dies In Pa. Turnpike Crash

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 11 (AP)—A Florida woman was killed today as the auto she was driving swerved across the medial strip of the Pennsylvania Turnpike and crashed into an embankment.

State Police identified the woman as Katherine N. Anson, 53, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. She was riding alone.

The crash occurred about three miles east of the Pittsburgh interchange.

Lucky Accident Prevents Blast

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—A lucky accident which clogged a fuel line kept 600 gallons of high test gasoline, mistakenly put in a furnace tank, from blowing up yesterday.

Several hundred persons were evacuated from the South Side area as firemen drained the gasoline from a fuel oil storage tank.

The gasoline had been delivered Friday to a garage which also was expecting delivery of 600 gallons of fuel oil. By mistake the gasoline was put in the tank which automatically feeds the furnace.

Somehow, the fuel line into the furnace became clogged and the fire went out. The attendant on duty tried unsuccessfully to light it again.

12 Refugees Bound For Maryland Homes

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Twelve refugees of five different nationalities are due to arrive Wednesday, bound for homes in Maryland.

The refugees, part of a group of 1,266 being transported on the U.S. Navy ship The General Langfitt, have Germany, Romania, Russia, Yugoslavia and the former Free City of Danzig as countries of origin.

Bound for Westminster, Md. is Christof Oster, 42, a shoemaker from Yugoslavia. With him is his wife Eva, 37, and his 18-year-old daughter of the same name. Ralph E. D. Hull is the sponsor for the family, which comes through the endorsement of the Church World Service.

Catastrophe Averted

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP)—A truck loaded with five tons of dynamite collided with a crowded street car in Rome yesterday. Police said a catastrophe was averted because both vehicles were moving slowly.

W.Va. Supreme Court Reverses WM Valuation

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 11.—The state's new formula for assessing railroad property valuations for assessment purposes won an important Supreme Court test Saturday.

The court unanimously upheld the formula in a suit originated by the Western Maryland Railway, and in so doing handed Western Maryland its first loss in three legal battles against state tax assessments.

Twice in past years the railroad went to court to protest the taxes levied against it, and twice before it won. Again this spring it carried into court its assessed property valuation of $11,250,000.

Judge Ernest A. See of the Mineral County Circuit Court, who once before had sustained the railroad's contention, sided with the railroad and sliced Western Maryland's assessment to $8,600,000.

Once before the state carried the case to the Supreme Court and lost. This time, using its new formula, it won.

Legion Yule Party Today

Mineral Young GOP Club Will Meet Tomorrow Night

Lincoln Day Dinner Plans On Program

KEYSER—Mineral County Young Republican Club will hold a dinner-meeting at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, in the second floor dining room of Rosemont Restaurant. The club is expected to complete plans for the big Republican Lincoln Day dinner, scheduled for February.

Club officers and members expect to make the Lincoln Day dinner the biggest GOP rally ever held in the county, and expect it to be the greatest in the Eastern Panhandle. Plans for this dinner will be the main action starting right after Christmas.

The dinner will be a fund raising affair with proceeds to be used to finance the Republican cause in the general election campaign during the coming summer and next fall.

The officers of the club say the membership drive being conducted has been successful and they expect more than 200 more before the primary election in May.

The purpose of the organization is to promote interest in the election and maintain a faction-free party in Mineral County.

Ray Coffman, Jr., president of the Young Republicans, has emphasized that at no time in the primary election campaign, will the club, as a unit, back any indi-

W.Va. Supreme Court Reverses WM Valuation

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 11 (AP)—The state's new formula for assessing railroad property valuations for assessment purposes won an important Supreme Court test Saturday.

The court unanimously upheld the formula in a suit originated by the Western Maryland Railway, and in so doing handed Western Maryland its first loss in three legal battles against state tax assessments.

Twice in past years the railroad went to court to protest the taxes levied against it, and twice before it won. Again this spring it carried into court its assessor's property valuation of $11,250,000.

Judge Ernest A. See of the Mineral County Circuit Court, who once before had sustained the railroad's contention, sided with the railroad and sliced Western Maryland's assessment to $8,600,000.

Once before the state carried the case to the Supreme Court and lost. This time, using its new formula, it won.

Mineral Young GOP Club Will Meet Tomorrow Night

Lincoln Day Dinner Plans On Program

KEYSER—Mineral County Young Republican Club will hold a dinner-meeting at 6:30 p. m., Tuesday, in the second floor Dining room of Rosemont Restaurant. The club is expected to complete plans for the big Republican Lincoln Day dinner, scheduled for February.

Club officers and members expect to make the Lincoln Day dinner the biggest GOP rally ever held in the county, and expect it to be the greatest in the Eastern Panhandle. Plans for this dinner will be the main action starting right after Christmas.

The dinner will be a fund raising affair with proceeds to be used to finance the Republican cause in the general election campaign during the coming summer and next fall.

The officers of the club say the membership drive being conducted has been successful and they expect more than 200 more before the primary election in May.

The purpose of the organization is to promote interest in the election and maintain a faction-free party in Mineral County.

Ray Coffman, Jr., president of the Young Republicans, has emphasized that at no time in the primary election campaign, will the club, as a unit, back any individual for political office. "What we accomplish," he said, "will be the result of group effort and group approval; there will be no one-man decisions binding on the organization and there will be no 'backstage' maneuvering to advance the cause of one individual over another."

Nuclear Weapons Pose Questions

Exercise Sagebrush, conducted in Louisiana, poses new questions concerning the use of nuclear weapons, by United States forces. These questions are so serious and so important that reexamination of the nation's entire military policy may be called for.

That policy has undergone major changes since two "small" atomic bombs were dropped on Japanese cities in 1945. The nation has relied increasingly on the deterrent effect of nuclear bombs to keep Russia from undertaking an aggressive war.

It would be impossible for this country to match Russia's armed manpower, so it was natural that it should strive to keep ahead of the Communists in nuclear development and in the production, stockpiling and versatility of nuclear weapons and the facilities to deliver them.

This country created the hydrogen bomb and augmented its death-dealing capacity. It invented and tested a great variety of tactical atomic weapons to be used on the battlefield or against ships and planes. And this country completely reorganized its military plans around the use of nuclear weapons as a central feature.

The Big Four heads of state tacitly agreed at Geneva in July that war with hydrogen bombs would be so horrible that it might destroy mankind and must therefore be ruled out. No atomic or hydrogen bombs on cities, seemed to be the thinking, unless the enemy uses his first. But it was assumed that tactical atomic weapons on the battlefield would not be frowned upon.

Exercise Sagebrush casts some doubt on this assumption. Its 275 "small" atomic bombs or missiles had to be used mainly against airfields. If this had been a war and not an exercise, radiation from their 79 megatons of explosive power would have had deadly effects on adjacent cities. The five-day operation would have caused more devastation and loss of life in the South than the four years of the Civil War Between the States, according to one military analyst.

It seems to be clear that the idea of using tactical nuclear weapons only against enemy forces is a chimera. Civilians would suffer almost as much as if they were deliberately bombed in cities. Present U. S. plans of strategy and tactics are built around use of these weapons, but would such weapons be employed if the enemy, lead in other military categories, cunningly refrained from using them?

A Students Revolt

Racial relations are vexed throughout the world, particularly where racial or religious groups live in close proximity. Then barriers are set up to prevent intermarriage. This is as true of the caste system in India as among the numerous races that compose the population of the United States; it is as true of Northern and Southern Ireland as it is of Mississippi or Georgia.

The revolt of the students of Georgia Tech is significant because these students took the position of special political circumstances that may prevail temporarily. The governor of Georgia had intervened in the affairs of the students because a Negro was on the opposite team. The students rejected his right to decide for them with whom they should play.

It is not inherent in the attitude of these students that they will vote against segregation, that they will vote Republican or that they will vote for Walter George against Herman Talmadge. What, in effect, they said was that they want to play football, that they want to play Pittsburgh, that Pittsburgh has the right to select its own team and that this is sports not politics.

The students won the day and everyone seemed satisfied except those politicians who lost face. This does not mean that the Negro problem is solved in Georgia or anywhere else, or that anyone has yet come up with an easy solution. There are no easy solutions for difficult racial problems, which involve marriages among persons of differing races, religions and nationalities. While there are plenty of exceptions to all rules, most parents are opposed to intermarriage and take whatever steps they can to guide their children into marriages within the narrow margins of their own kind. Furthermore, a ruling class will take whatever steps are possible to prevent a minority or newcomers from being masters even when the latter may have become a numerical majority. History is replete with examples of the correctness of this view.

Student demonstrations, whenever they occur, are an index to the basic thinking of a community. When they are spontaneous, they reflect a mass weariness with the attitudes of those in power. Even if fomented from outside, they cannot occur unless the time is ripe for them to occur. I have witnessed student demonstrations in China and Japan which actually changed the history of the world. Against them, armies were of no avail because the soldiers would not kill their own kind, preferring to join them. I do not recall a single, spontaneous student demonstration that failed to be effective, not because the students were numerous or powerful, but because the students' ideas mirrored table conversation at home, the talk of boy and girl, the jam sessions in dormitories.

From this experience, it would appear to me that the younger people are fed up with the incessant emphasis on the race problem and find football a more serious subject. During visits to colleges in recent years, I found students more interested in such emotional subjects as religion rather than politics. During the past several years, I have sat with thousands of students who preferred to debate the relative merits of Bach and Dixieland jazz.

What seems primary to one generation looks like small talk to another. If you want to test this, get into a debate with a group of college freshmen or high school seniors on the great subjects of private enterprise and public power. Usually the debate will end in a broader discussion on how the oldsters messed up the lives of their own children by their violent emotionalism over trivialities. Religious differences are being battered down generally and the more we go to war, the faster racial differences seem unimportant because while the life you save may be your own, the fellow who helps to have it may be a socially unrecognizable helot of another race.

Those who believe in racial purity should not go to war assisted by those whom they dislike. I learned that in Great Britain, last spring, when oldsters were complaining about their colored problem, which, I understand, also has developed into something among the Nordics of Germany. Too many of the herrenvolk are giving birth to colored children.

The consequences of the Georgia Tech demonstration need to be studied sociologically.

President May Face Difficult Decision In Berlin

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

It is entirely possible that President Eisenhower may be faced, early in the coming election year, with the kind of decision which only a president can make. If the worst comes to the worst, he may have to decide between abandoning West Berlin or adopting the course which President Truman once seriously considered — ordering an armored convoy to Berlin with instructions to shoot if necessary.

Most of the experts in the State Department, it should be said, hopefully believe that the Soviets will not dare risk a second blockade of Berlin. But they do not exclude it. And what is now going on in Berlin looks suspiciously like the preliminary stage-setting for a blockade.

The stage-setting began with the obviously planned arrest of two American congressmen. It continued with the rejection of the resulting American protest by the Soviet commander, on the grounds that East Germany was now a sovereign power. It has continued further with hints in the Communist press that the "sovereignty" of the East German puppet government extends to all Berlin; and with threats to stop the barges which bring essential supplies to West Berlin.

Predicted By Kennan

Months ago, former Ambassador to Moscow George Kennan publicly predicted that just this sort of thing would happen, as the Soviet response to the adherence of West Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Soviets would confer a phony sovereignty on East Germany, Kennan predicted. Then the East Germans would put pressure on West Berlin, for two purposes.

First, the Western Allies would be forced to protest to the Soviets, and these protests would be rejected on the grounds that East Germany was a sovereign state. The West would thus be humiliated, and Soviet power in Germany demonstrated for all Germans to see.

Second, the East Germans would use West Berlin as a hostage, to force West Germany to negotiate directly with the Communist puppet regime. Thus the stage would be set for what Europeans call "The dialogue Bonn-Pankow"—the direct negotiations on unification between the two Germans, on an equal basis, which the Soviets have long been maneuvering for.

Kennan begins to look like a better than average prophet. The State Department experts also, of course, foresaw that the Soviets might react in some such way. The question now is how far the East German puppets and their Soviet masters are prepared to go.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Was my undiluted privilege five years ago to introduce Dr. Gaimza Paz to eighteen hundred publishers and editors.

They were guests of the Banshees Club at the Waldorf. They gave the distinguished Argentinian a greater reception than an apple in a playpen.

Those eighteen hundred newspapermen tore up the seats, rocked Oscar's chandeliers and clapped their hands until the blisters broke.

"Maximum Harassment"

Most State Department experts believe that the Communists will adopt a policy of "maximum harassment." They will subject West Berlin to a series of pin-pricks, or even needle-pricks, holding up traffic, demanding excessive tolls, and so on. But they will not plunge in the dagger—they will not stop all traffic into Berlin, and thus impose a total blockade.

If the East Germans get too tough, it is pointed out, the West Germans can also get tough. East Germany is still heavily dependent on West German coal and steel. Last spring the East Germans threatened punitive tolls on traffic to West Berlin. The Bonn government ostentatiously reduced shipments of coal and steel to East Germany. And suddenly the East Germans began to sing a far milder tune.

would get his newspaper back sure as shooting in a six o'clock western.

But we didn't think it would take five years until that prophecy jelled. Most of our predictions are made on the spur of the emergency. We punch 'em out as we go along like a lunch ticket in a cafeteria.

Doc, truth crushed to earth shall rise again. Just push the dents out of its hat and you're in business. We congratulate the Argentine.

Hereditary Aspect Of Allergy Is Well Established

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

A child born into a family where one or both parents is allergic stands a 60 per cent chance of following suit. Many of these babies develop a rash or persistent vomiting or other intestinal symptoms by the first birthday. Before age 6 they are likely to become victims of eczema, hay fever, or asthma.

Since the hereditary aspect of allergy is well established, can anything be done to prevent or delay the onset of the condition? Some physicians suggest that the pregnant allergic woman eat a wide variety of foods and go easy on milk and eggs, which are common allergens. Adequate proteins can be obtained from meat, and calcium and phosphorus in tablet or powder form will make up the deficit of these minerals caused by abstaining from milk.

The success of this preventive plan is questionable, but there is evidence that the development of sensitivities can be forestalled if cow's milk is withheld during the first year of the baby's life. The breast-fed tot has a seven times better chance of escaping eczema as the bottle-fed. This in itself is a recommendation for nature's way.

If the mother of a potentially allergic infant cannot nurse him, however, soybean milk may be used rather than cow's milk. Many experiments have been conducted along this line.

Dr. Jerome Glaser of Rochester, N. Y., started a group of these vulnerable tykes on soybean milk. At the end of six years, only 15 per cent had developed a major allergic disease. In a similar group who drank cow's milk, 64.6 per cent suffered from eczema, hay fever, or asthma. These tests offer a clew to prophylaxis.

Early manifestations of the allergic state include skin eruptions and gastro-intestinal symptoms such as persistent vomiting, gas, colic, and diarrhea. Should these symptoms appear in children receiving cow's milk, physicians usually switch to soybean milk.

The unhappy child also may be a candidate for allergy. Mothers of such youngsters often are overheard to say, "He is different from other children" or "He always seems miserable." They note a marked change in disposition after the soybean formula is given. The victim of persistent stuffy, running nose reacts in the same way.

The diet of these tots must be planned carefully, eliminating the most common offenders. The home must be kept as dust free as possible and pets such as dogs and cats should not be allowed indoors. Emotional conflicts in the family must be decreased because of the close relationship between anxiety and the allergic state.

Fighting With Shoes

A fighting shoe merchant from Laredo, Texas, was the real man behind Justice Department suits recently brought against two giant shoe manufacturers, the General Shoe Company of Nashville and the Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis.

The crusading merchant is Sam Sullivan of Laredo, who, instead of begging for mercy when a shoe manufacturer threatened to put him out of business a year ago, got sore and began to battle. The shoe manufacturer's salesman had pulled a "General Motors" on Sam. He told Sullivan that unless he sold more shoes, the firm would finance a competing shop across the street and cut into his trade.

This resembles charges brought against General Motors by automobile dealers testifying before Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming. But unlike the car dealers, Sullivan immediately started a crusade. He organized the Independent Shoe Dealers Association. He also enlisted the aid of such trust-busters as Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Rep. Wright Patman of Texas. They made so much noise that the Justice Department started checking.

As a result, the Justice Department has filed suit aimed at breaking up a merger between the General Shoe Company and Delman, Inc., of New York; also blocking another proposed merger between the Brown Shoe Company and the G. R. Kinney company of New York. Preliminary hearings were held this week in Nashville and St. Louis.

Meanwhile, fighting Sam Sullivan had taken a terrific chance. Many businessmen would have run away from the battle. But last September he thumbed his nose at President Clark Gamble of the Brown Shoe Company.

"Yesterday and the day before," he wrote, "we bought what will probably be the last orders of merchandise from your company."

Referring to a proposed merger that would put the Brown Shoe Company in the retail shoe business in Laredo, Sullivan wrote Gamble: "On the day it is all sealed up, please cancel our back orders. Because we'll be through."

Recording The Congressmen

A congressional probe of a big timber giveaway in Oregon so panicked top brass of the Interior Department that they tried secretly to tape-record the testimony of witnesses. However, their best friend on the congressional committee upset the appeccat.

He was cantankerous Congressman Clare Hoffman (R., Mich.), who had gone out to Oregon for hearings to protect Secretary of the Interior Doug McKay and Interior Department officials. They had failed to inform their friend of their recording plans and he burst into the hearing room in Portland to announce his discovery that secret radio tapes were being cut.

"I do not like this secrecy business," Hoffman spat, doing his best to rattle the chairman, Senator Kerr Scott of North Carolina. "Who is taping it and for what purpose?"

"Mr. Chairman," interrupted Rep. Earl Shudoff (D., Pa.), "I just checked and I found that some government agency is taping it, without permission and without a request."

It was then revealed that Paul Ewing, regional information officer of the Interior Department, was doing the taping.

"It is being taped for check-back if we need it," Ewing piped up from the audience.

Confused, GOP Hoffman changed his tune. He began defending the Interior Department's right to record the hearings.

"I am in favor of recordings, but I want to know about it," declared Hoffman. "Don't you want the department to take an accurate record of what happens?"

Eventually the hearings got under way again, and gradually details emerged regarding the sale of 300 acres of valuable Rogue River forest land to the MacDonal family of Mobile, Ala., after the sale had been consistently opposed by the U. S. Forest Service, by the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management, and by Oscar Chapman when secretary of the interior. Secretary McKay, however, reversed this and sold the timber rights to the national forest for only $8,045 as originally reported in the Washington Merry-Go-Round on September 29, 1954.

About Inflation

By Roger W. Babson

NEW YORK CITY — There are many reasons for inflation. Most important has been the fact that inflation comes when the supply of money exceeds the supply of goods.

There Is A Choice

The above can occur either by (1) an increase in government or private credit which results in higher prices and higher wages, or (2) an increase in the circulation of money, which can have the same effect as more money; this latter comes as a result of boom times such as are now being enjoyed by New York and other large cities.

Contrariwise, if unemployment increases and advertising appropriations decrease, retail trade will decline and inventories accumulate. Then the supply of goods will increase, credit and money will tighten, wages will decline, and we will have deflation. It's the old story: "We cannot have our pie and eat it too." We can choose between full employment with higher wages and higher prices, or unemployment with lower wages and lower prices.

Today's New Factor

Since World War II, another very important cause of inflation has become operative. This may be called a psychological cause; but it is really due to the talk about "atomic bombs," "hydrogen bombs," and "guided missiles."

To scare us into demanding greater expenditures for defense and a willingness to be taxed therefor, we are fed with this probable fact—namely: If World War III should now come, the 20 largest U. S. cities with 30,000,000 innocent U. S. people would be wiped out.

Saving Becoming Lost Art

Constant talk of this sort in the press and over the radio is destroying the American habit of thrift, substituting therefor a spending craze. Before we heard of atomic bombs, people would get a mortgage for only about 60 per cent of the cost of a house. Their ambition then was to pay up this mortgage and have the house "free and clear." Furthermore, most mortgages were written for a term not exceeding five years.

Up to now Kukukukuland's lone claim to fame was that it has the craziest name in geography.

A Canadian woman received a letter 45 yards long from a relative in Europe. Shucks!—that's nothing!

Oil was struck on the lot of a Hollywood movie studio. Zadok Dumkopf's willing to wager it was a super-colossal, epic gusher.

After driving 34 years without an accident an Oregon woman motorist had two collisions in one day. Lady, don't let it get to be a habit!

It is entirely possible that President Eisenhower may be faced, early in the coming election year, with the kind of decision which only a president can make. If the worst comes to the worst, he may have to decide between abandoning West Berlin or adopting the course which President Truman once seriously considered — ordering an armored convoy to Berlin with instructions to shoot if necessary.

Most of the experts in the State Department, it should be said, hopefully believe that the Soviets will not dare risk a second blockade of Berlin. But they do not exclude it. And what is now going on in Berlin looks suspiciously like the preliminary stage-setting for a blockade.

The stage-setting began with the obviously planned arrest of two American congressmen. It continued with the rejection of the resubmitting American protest by the Soviet commander, on the grounds that East Germany was now a sovereign power. It has continued further with hints in the Communist press that the "sovereignty" of the East German puppet government extends to all Berlin; and with threats to stop the barges which bring essential supplies to West Berlin.

Predicted By Kennan

Months ago, former Ambassador to Moscow George Kennan publicly predicted that just this sort of thing would happen, as the Soviet response to the adherence of West Germany to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The Soviets would confer a phony sovereignty on East Germany, Kennan predicted. Then the East Germans would put pressure on West Berlin, for two purposes.

First, the Western Allies would be forced to protest to the Soviets, and these protests would be rejected on the grounds that East Germany was a sovereign state. The West would thus be humiliated, and Soviet power in Germany demonstrated for all Germans to see.

Second, the East Germans would use West Berlin as a hostage, to force West Germany to negotiate directly with the Communist puppet regime. Thus the stage would be set for what Europeans call "the dialogue Bonn-Pankow"—the direct negotiations on unification between the two Germanys, on an equal basis, which the Soviets have long been maneuvering for.

Kennan begins to look like a better than average prophet. The State Department experts also, of course, foresaw that the Soviets might react in some such way. The question now is how far the East German puppets and their Soviet masters are prepared to go.

"Maximum Harassment"

Most State Department experts believe that the Communists will adopt a policy of "maximum harassment." They will subject West Berlin to a series of pin-pricks, or even needle-pricks, holding up traffic, demanding excessive tolls, and so on. But they will not plunge in the dagger—they will not stop all traffic into Berlin, and thus impose a total blockade.

If the East Germans get too tough, it is pointed out, the West Germans can also get tough. East Germany is still heavily dependent on West German coal and steel. Last spring the East Germans threatened punitive tolls on traffic to West Berlin. The Bonn government ostentatiously reduced shipments of coal and steel to East Germany. And suddenly the East Germans began to sing a far milder tune.

Baering Down on The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Was my undiluted privilege five years ago to introduce Dr. Gainza Paz to eighteen hundred publishers and editors.

They were guests of the Banshees Club at the Waldorf. They gave the distinguished Argentinian a greater reception than an apple in a playpen.

Those eighteen hundred newspapermen took up the seats, rocked Oscar's chandeliers and clapped their hands until the blisters broke.

We assured the old doc that he would get his newspaper back sure as shooting in a six o'clock western.

But we didn't think it would take five years until that prophecy jelled. Most of our predictions are made on the spur of the emergency. We punch 'em out as we go along like a lunch ticket in a cafeteria.

Doc, truth crushed to earth shall rise again. Just push the dents out of its hat and you're in business. We congratulate the Argentine.

Hereditary Aspect Of Allergy Is Well Established

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deifen

A child born into a family where one or both parents is allergic stands a 60 per cent chance of following suit. Many of these babies develop a rash or persistent vomiting or other intestinal symptoms by the first birthday. Before age 6 they are likely to become victims of eczema, hay fever, or asthma.

Since the hereditary aspect of allergy is well established, can anything be done to prevent or delay the onset of the condition? Some physicians suggest that the pregnant allergic woman eat a wide variety of foods and go easy on milk and eggs, which are common allergens. Adequate proteins can be obtained from meat, and calcium and phosphorus in tablet or powder form will make up the deficit of these minerals caused by abstaining from milk.

The success of this preventive plan is questionable, but there is evidence that the development of sensitivities can be forestalled if cow's milk is withheld during the first year of the baby's life. The breast-fed tot has a seven times better chance of escaping eczema as the bottlefed. This in itself is a recommendation for nature's way.

If the mother of a potentially allergic infant cannot nurse him, however, soybean milk may be used rather than cow's milk. Many experiments have been conducted along this line.

Dr. Jerome Glaser of Rochester, N. Y., started a group of these vulnerable tykes on soybean milk. At the end of six years, only 15 per cent had developed a major allergic disease. In a similar group who drank cow's milk, 64.6 per cent suffered from eczema, hay fever, or asthma. These tests offer a clew to prophylaxis.

Early manifestations of the allergic state include skin eruptions and gastro-intestinal symptoms such as persistent vomiting, gas, colic, and diarrhea. Should these symptoms appear in children receiving cow's milk, physicians usually switch to soybean milk.

The unhappy child also may be a candidate for allergy. Mothers of such youngsters often are overheard to say, "He is different from other children" or "He always seems miserable." They note a marked change in disposition after the soybean formula is given. The victim of persistent stuffy, running nose reacts in the same way.

The diet of these tots must be planned carefully, eliminating the most common offenders. The home must be kept as dust free as possible and pets such as dogs and cats should not be allowed indoors. Emotional conflicts in the family must be decreased because of the close relationship between anxiety and the allergic state.

New York Times Becomes Subject Of Senate Committee Witch-Hunt

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — An investigation of the New York Times that has all the earmarks of a McCarthy witch-hunt has been staged behind closed doors by the Senate Internal Security Committee in New York. In some respects it goes further than any McCarthy move against a newspaper.

A total of 22 members of the New York Times staff were subpoenaed at the instigation of Senate Committee Counsel Julian G. Sourwine, who has been chief security prober both under Democrats and Republicans.

The 22 witnesses were questioned not only as to whether they were Communists, but about matters that appear to go far beyond the scope of a Senate committee. Such as which headlines certain copy desk readers wrote, and about the general organization of the New York Times.

The investigation seemed chiefly aimed at some of the original members of the Newspaper Guild, which in its early days was troubled with pro-Communist and left-wing leanings. Many of these members have now gone over to the conservative side, at least in the case of the New York Times.

It so happens that Senator F. St. Land of Mississippi, chairman of the Security Committee, is from Mississippi, while the guiding news genius of the Times, Managing Editor Turner Catledge, is also from Mississippi and once edited the Tupelo, Miss., Journal. Eastland did not appear at the hearings.

When Editor Catledge was asked about the probe he said it reminded him of what Calvin Coolidge said when Rupert Hughes wrote a book critical of George Washington.

"Cal looked out the White House window," said Catledge, "and remarked, 'Well, I see the Washington Monument is still standing.'"

Fighting With Shoes

A fighting shoe merchant from Laredo, Texas, was the real man behind Justice Department suits recently brought against two giant shoe manufacturers, the General Shoe Company of Nashville and the Brown Shoe Company of St. Louis.

The crusading merchant is Sam Sullivan of Laredo, who, instead of begging for mercy when a shoe manufacturer threatened to put him out of business a year ago, got sore and began to battle. The shoe manufacturer's salesman had pulled a "General Motors" on Sam. He told Sullivan that unless he sold more shoes, the firm would finance a competing shop across the street and cut into his trade.

This resembles charges brought against General Motors by automobile dealers testifying before Senator Joe O'Mahoney of Wyoming. But unlike the car dealers, Sullivan immediately started a crusade. He organized the Independent Shoe Dealers Association. He also enlisted the aid of such trust-busters as Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Rep. Wright Patman of Texas. They made so much noise that the Justice Department started checking.

As a result, the Justice Department has filed suit aimed at breaking up a merger between the General Shoe Company and Delman, Inc., of New York; also blocking another proposed merger between the Brown Shoe Company and the G. R. Kinney company of New York. Preliminary hearings were held this week in Nashville and St. Louis.

Meanwhile, fighting Sam Sullivan had taken a terrific chance. Many businessmen would have run away from the battle. But last September he thumbed his nose at President Clark Gamble of the Brown Shoe Company.

"Yesterday and the day before," he wrote, "we bought what will probably be the last orders of merchandise from your company."

Referring to a proposed merger that would put the Brown Shoe Company in the retail shoe business in Laredo, Sullivan wrote Gamble: "On the day it is all sealed up, please cancel our back orders. Because we'll be through."

Recording The Congressmen

A congressional probe of a big timber giveaway in Oregon so panicked top brass of the Interior Department that they tried secretly to tape-record the testimony of witnesses. However, their best friend on the congressional committee upset the applecart.

He was cantankerous Congressman Clare Hoffman (R., Mich.), who had gone out to Oregon for hearings to protect Secretary of the Interior Doug McKay and Interior Department officials. They had failed to inform their friend of their recording plans and he burst into the hearing room in Portland to announce his discovery that secret radio tapes were being cut.

"I do not like this secrecy business," Hoffman spat out, doing his best to rattle the chairman, Senator Kerr Scott of North Carolina. "Who is taping it and for what purpose?"

"Mr. Chairman," interrupted Rep. Earl Shutoff (D., Pa.), "I just checked and I found that some government agency is taping it, without permission and without a request."

It was then revealed that Paul Ewing, regional information officer of the Interior Department, was doing the taping.

"It is being taped for check-back if we need it," Ewing piped up from the audience.

Confused, GOP Hoffman changed his tune. He began defending the Interior Department's right to record the hearings.

"I am in favor of recordings, but I want to know about it," declared Hoffman. "Don't you want the department to take an accurate record of what happens?"

Eventually the hearings got under way again, and gradually details emerged regarding the sale of 300 acres of valuable Rogue River forest land to the MacDonal family of Mobile, Ala., after the sale had been consistently opposed by the U. S. Forest Service, by the Interior Department's Bureau of Land Management, and by Oscar Chapman when secretary of the interior. Secretary McKay, however, reversed this and sold the timber rights to the national forest for only $8,045 as originally reported in the Washington Merry-Go-Round on September 29, 1954.

About Inflation

By Roger W. Babson

NEW YORK CITY — There are many reasons for inflation. Most important has been the fact that inflation comes when the supply of money exceeds the supply of goods.

There Is A Choice

The above can occur either by (1) an increase in government or private credit which results in higher prices and higher wages, or (2) an increase in the circulation of money, which can have the same effect as more money; this latter comes as a result of boom times such as are now being enjoyed by New York and other large cities.

Contrariwise, if unemployment increases and advertising appropriations decrease, retail trade will decline and inventories accumulate. Then the supply of goods will increase, credit and money will tighten, wages will decline, and we will have deflation. It's the old story: "We cannot have our pie and eat it too." We can choose between full employment with higher wages and higher prices, or unemployment with lower wages and lower prices.

Today's New Factor

Since World War II, another very important cause of inflation has become operative. This may be called a psychological cause; but it is really due to the talk about "atomic bombs," "hydrogen bombs," and "guided missiles."

To scare us into demanding greater expenditures for defense and a willingness to be taxed therefor, we are fed with this probable fact—namely: If World War III should now come, the 20 largest U. S. cities with 30,000,000 innocent U. S. people would be wiped out.

Saving Becoming Lost Art

Constant talk of this sort in the press and over the radio is destroying the American habit of thrift, substituting therefor a spending craze. Before we heard of atomic bombs, people would get a mortgage for only about 60 per cent of the cost of a house. Their ambition then was to pay up this mortgage and have the house "free and clear." Furthermore, most mortgages were written for a term not exceeding five years.

As if things weren't complicated enough, the government plans to experiment with a "simplified" typewriter keyboard.

Numbers on the experimental keyboard would run "7331902468" instead of "234567890." What's "simple" about THAT?

Olson Nurses Wounds, Wants Another Shot

Two Suits Pending Against Ex-Champ

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11 (AP)—A dejected Carl (Bobo) Olson, knocked out of his middleweight championship at Chicago Friday night, nursed his wounds in seclusion today and took stock of his chances — professional, domestic and financial.

"I sure as hell will try to get that crown back—and quick," was his answer to a question about his 90-day option for a rematch with three-time champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Blinking under a puffy right eye, he ducked away from further queries at Sacramento, where his plane landed yesterday because the airport at San Francisco was in a fog to match his own mood.

In Chicago, Robinson was acknowledging the contract option and saying he was ready to meet Olson "if Bobo thinks he wants to fight me again."

But neither fighter's manager seemed to think there would be a rematch very soon. Sugar Ray's manager, George Gaintford, said Bobo should "go out and make himself a reputation before he thinks about a rematch."

Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, said his ex-champ "will fight no more" until he patches up a breach with his wife and gets his affairs straightened around.

On Bobo's personal card of preliminaries are a pending divorce action and a half million dollar breach of contract suit.

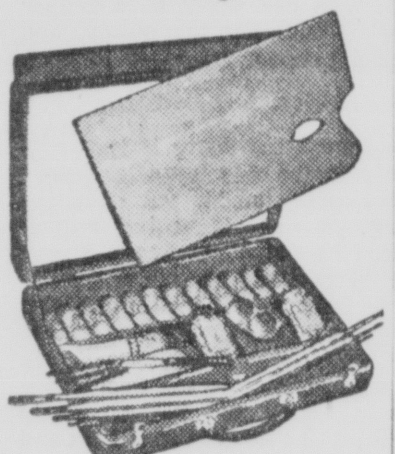

The suit, by Honolulu dairyman Herbert Campos, is set for trial tomorrow in federal court. Campos is trying to collect from Olson and Flaherty one-third of the fighter's net proceeds since June, 1951, the date when he charges Bobo jumped a contract with him to put himself under the Flaherty management in San Francisco.

When Nashua won Hialeah's 1955 Flamingo Stakes it was on his way to a record—seven $100,000 victories in one year.

Temple Upsets Kentucky Quint, Duquesne Wins

Dukes And Alabama Take Tournaments

[By The Associated Press]
Kentucky, ranked second in the Associated Press pre-season basketball poll, was trying to pick up the pieces today after the Wildcats' victory train was derailed by Temple.

The Wildcats, in an attempt to bolster their stature for national recognition, had their aspirations knocked flat when the Owls jolted them 73-61 Saturday night.

Kentucky was figured as the team to challenge first-ranked San Francisco and possibly dethrone the national champion Dons. But with this stunning setback Frisco appears to have the top rung all to itself.

Dukes Beat Pitt
Saturday also saw the completion of the first two pre-holiday tournaments with the favorites Alabama No. 6, and Duquesne, No. 9, coming through as expected. The Crimson Tide won the Birmingham Classic, overwhelming Valparaiso 82-56 in the finals. The Iron Dukes polished off Pitt 71-49 to capture the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh.

Besides Kentucky, the only other club rated among the nation's top 10 to taste defeat was eighth-ranked Illinois. After running up a 13-point halftime advantage, the Illini bowed to Missouri 74-73.

San Francisco was idle over the weekend, but the Dons will get a thorough test this coming Friday and Saturday when they compete in the DePaul Invitational in Chicago. Other teams entered are DePaul, Marquette and Duquesne.

Wolfpack Is Victor
North Carolina State, No. 3 in the nation downed Eastern Kentucky 83-74 behind a 28-point scoring spree by John Maglio.

Fourth-ranked Iowa was idle. Utah, No. 5, continued to impress with a 99-63 drubbing of Arizona for its second victory in as many nights over the Wildcats.

Dayton, rated seventh, squeezed by Toledo 62-59. Brigham Young No. 10, rolled over Oregon 83-52.

In the East St. Louis downed St. John's of Brooklyn 88-80; Navy came from behind to turn back Penn 69-66; Harvard trimmed Cornell 81-59; Seton Hall beat Roanoke 92-81 and Amherst humbled Army 66-57.

Terps Top Deacons
In Southern activity Len Rosenbluth's 31-point harvest was instrumental in North Carolina's 92-75 triumph over South Carolina. All-America Darrell Floyd collected 42 points as Furman romped over Virginia Tech 85-69; Maryland overpowered Wake Forest 61-51; Duke disposed of Georgia Tech 87-66; and Vanderbilt swept to a 78-69 conquest over Oklahoma.

Writers Disagree With Secretaries In Picking Horses
BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Racing writers agreed with track secretaries that Nashua was the best Horse of the Year, but they didn't see eye to eye on fillies.

Claiborne Farm's Doubledogdare was fancied as the best 2-year-old filly by most of the 172 writers participating in the annual poll by Turf & Sport Digest. The 21 racing secretaries picking the best for the Thoroughbred Racing Assn., had voted for Howell E. Jackson's Nasrina.

Otherwise, the writers and handicappers were in accord that Belair Stud's Nashua, who is to be auctioned, was the best 3-year-old and the champion of them all in 1955.

They also agreed that Mrs. Anson A. Bigelow's Nail was the best 2-year-old colt and High Gun the outstanding handicap horse of 4 years and older.

Passing must be passe at Tulane. When the Greenies defeated Georgia 14-0 this year they did not complete a pass.

Frisco Tops Colts, 35-24

McElhenny, Tittle Star For Winners

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Hugh McElhenny ripped off two touchdowns and Y. A. Tittle passed for two more today as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Baltimore Colts 35-24 in a National Football League game.

Before a crowd of 35,371, the 49ers zoomed to a 28-3 halftime lead on the strength of a three-touchdown scoring thrust in the final seven minutes of the second quarter. But they were on the ropes most of the final period.

George Shaw, held to only three pass completions in the first half, connected freely in the second. He completed for a pair of touchdowns on tosses to Jim Mutschler for 33 yards and to Lloyd Colterlyahn for 1. Shaw added the third Colt marker himself on a 14-yard sprint.

Bert Rechichar booted the three conversions.
San Francisco, scoring on a three yard slant by Dick Moglee the first time it had the ball, was completely in control for the first two quarters.

The 49ers rammed over three quick tallies in the uproarious second quarter. They drove 74 yards in 12 plays. Tittle passing to Billy Wilson with seven left to go for the touchdown. A poor Colt punt after the next kickoff gave the 49ers possession on their own 44 moments later. Tittle hit Joe Arenas with a 39-yard scoring pass. Hardy Brown intercepted a Shaw pass on the first Colt offensive play after the kickoff and returned it to the 13. From there McElhenny skirted end for the score.

Baltimore 3 0 7 14-24
San Francisco 7 21 7 0-35
Baltimore scoring: Touchdowns—Mutschler (13, pass from Shaw), Shaw (14, run), Colterlyahn (1, pass from Shaw). Conversions—Rechichar 3. Field goals — Kerkorian (31 yards).

San Francisco scoring: Touchdowns — Moglee (3, plunge), McElhenny 2 (13, run; 2, plunge); Wilson (10, pass from Tittle); Arenas (39, pass-run from Tittle). Conversions—Soltau 5.

Redskins Win Over Steelers By 28-17 Score

Janowicz Sets Team Record 88 Points

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Washington Redskins rallied behind Eddie LeBaron's passing today to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers 28-17 in a game which saw halfback Vic Janowicz set a new Washington season scoring record.

Janowicz scored 10 points on one touchdown and four conversions to run his total for the year to 88, three more than Dick Pollon scored in 1947.

The half-frozen crowd of 20,547 watched the 'Skins win their eighth game of the season, the greatest number of Washington victories since their 1943 divisional championship year.

And it was little LeBaron who did it, leading the Redskins on three scoring marches in the second half after the Steelers had built up a 17-7 lead.

Eddie threw 11 yards to Ralph Thomas for one touchdown at the end of a 70-yard march to make it 14-17 and then pitched 5 to Dale Atkeson at the end of a 65-yard drive for the winning score.

Pittsburgh scoring: Touchdowns, Rogel (1, plunge); Mathews (29, pass from Finks). Field goal, Weed (9). Conversions, Weed 2.

Washington scoring: Touchdowns, Elter (22, run); Thomas (11, pass from LeBaron); Atkeson (5, pass from LeBaron); Janowicz (3, run). Conversions, Janowicz 4.

Giants Defeat Detroit, 24-19
Walker Ends Career, Point Total Is 534

DETROIT, Dec. 11 (AP)—Haliback Frank Gifford scored two touchdowns within 80 seconds of the second quarter and the New York Giants held on to beat the Detroit Lions 24-19, in Briggs Stadium today.

A crowd of 45,929, in 29-degree temperature, saw Gifford race 21 yards for one touchdown, then combine with quarterback Don Heinrich on a 37-yard pass play for the other.

The two scores broke a 7-7 tie and gave the Giants a record of 6-3-1 for the season in the National Football League.

The defeat was the ninth for the Lions, fallen champions of the Western Division, compared with a scant three victories.

Doak Walker, playing his final game for the Lions, tallied 11 points to clinch league scoring honors. He scored on a pass from quarterback Harry Gilmer and booted a 19-yard field goal and two extra points.

It gave Walker 534 points for his six-year career, moving him into third place in the all-time scoring race. Only Don Hutson and Bob Waterfield rank ahead of the Texan, who is giving up football to devote his time to business.

Washington's Total 235; Three Counties Report Total 1,333

New records were established by all three counties of District No. 1, comprising Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, during the six-day gunning season for deer which ended on Saturday.

A total of 1,333 bucks were slain in the three counties and that's only 287 less than the state record of 1,620. Maryland's overall total in 1954 was 1,660 but that included 40 deer taken by bow and arrow hunters. Bowman bagged three whitetails in Allegany last year and the same number during the special season this year.

Garrett county, as usual, topped the state this year with 608 kills. This topped by 16 the previous high of 592 in 1952. Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, last night, announced that Washington county's total for the six days was 235 and that bettered the previous high of 145 in 1932 by ninety.

Allegany county shattered the previous season mark of 281 set in 1954 on Tuesday after 246 kills on the first day and 86 on the second. Sixty-nine deer fell before hunters' guns in Allegany county Saturday, soaring the six-day total to 490. That topped the previous high by 209.

One of the most noteworthy features of the 1955 season was that not a single accident was reported in this section even though the hunting population had reached an all-time high.

Four members of a party of hunters from the State Adjutant General's Office, Baltimore, bagged bucks on the final day, according to Graydon Dunlap, checker at Shipway's Garage, Green Ridge. They were: Maj. Joseph M. Parvis, Baltimore, 9-195, Tarpon Ridge; Maj. Robert Baker, Baltimore, 6-145, Town Hill, and Maj. Elwood Lambert, Baltimore, 4-125, Green Ridge. They were at the camp of Sgt. John Divico, supply sergeant of Headquarters Company, of the local National Guard unit.

Minke checked a 105-pound spike buck that was killed on Green Ridge by Leo W. Rhodes of Jane Frazier Village on Saturday.

Olson Nurses Wounds, Wants Another Shot

Two Suits Pending Against Ex-Champ

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11 (AP)—A dejected Carl (Bobo) Olson, knocked out of his middleweight championship at Chicago Friday night, nursed his wounds in seclusion today and took stock of his chances — professional, domestic and financial.

"I sure as hell will try to get that crown back—and quick," was his answer to a question about his 90-day option for a rematch with three-time champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Blinking under a puffy right eye, he ducked away from further queries at Sacramento, where his plane landed yesterday because the airport at San Francisco was in a fog to match his own mood.

In Chicago, Robinson was acknowledging the contract option and saying he was ready to meet Olson "if Bobo thinks he wants to fight me again."

But neither fighter's manager seemed to think there would be a rematch very soon. Sugar Ray's manager, George Gainford, said Bobo should "go out and make himself a reputation before he thinks about a rematch."

Sid Flaherty, Olson's manager, said his ex-champ "will fight no more" until he patches up a breach with his wife and gets his affairs straightened out.

On Bobo's personal card of preliminaries are a pending divorce action and a half million dollar breach of contract suit.

The suit, by Honolulu dairyman Herbert Campos, is set for trial tomorrow in federal court. Campos is trying to collect from Olson and Flaherty one-third of the fighter's net proceeds since June, 1951, the date when he charges Bobo jumped a contract with him to put himself under the Flaherty management in San Francisco.

When Nashua won Hialeah's 1955 Flamingo stakes it started him on his way to a record—seven $100,000 victories in one year.

Temple Upsets Kentucky Quint, Duquesne Wins

Dukes And Alabama Take Tournaments

[By The Associated Press] Kentucky, ranked second in the Associated Press pre-season basketball poll, was trying to pick up the pieces today after the Wildcats' victory train was derailed by Temple.

The Wildcats, in an attempt to bolster their stature for national recognition, had their aspirations knocked flat when the Owls jolted them 73-61 Saturday night.

Kentucky was figured as the team to challenge first-ranked San Francisco and possibly dethrone the national champion Dons. But with this stunning setback Frisco appears to have the top rung all to itself.

Saturday also saw the completion of the first two pre-holiday tournaments with the favorites Alabama, No. 6, and Duquesne, No. 9, coming through as expected. The Crimson Tide won the Birmingham Classic, overwhelming Valparaiso 82-56 in the finals. The Iron Dukes polished off Pitt 71-49 to capture the Steel Bowl at Pittsburgh.

Besides Kentucky, the only other club rated among the nation's top 10 to taste defeat was eighth-ranked Illinois. After running up a 13-point halftime advantage, the Illini bowed to Missouri 74-73.

San Francisco was idle over the weekend, but the Dons will get a thorough test this coming Friday and Saturday when they compete in the DePaul Invitational in Chicago. Other teams entered are DePaul, Marquette and Duquesne.

Wolfpack Is Victor

North Carolina State, No. 3 in the nation downed Eastern Kentucky 83-74 behind a 28-point scoring spree by John Maglio.

Fourth-ranked Iowa was idle, Utah, No. 5, continued to impress with a 93-63 drubbing of Arizona for its second victory in as many nights over the Wildcats.

Dayton, rated seventh, squeezed by Toledo 62-59. Brigham Young, No. 10, rolled over Oregon 83-52.

In the East St. Louis downed St. John's of Brooklyn 88-80. Navy came from behind to turn back Penn 69-66. Harvard trimmed Cornell 81-59. Seton Hall beat Roanoke 92-81 and Amherst humbled Army 66-57.

Terps Top Deacons
In Southern activity Len Rosenbluth's 31-point harvest was instrumental in North Carolina's 92-73 triumph over South Carolina. All-American Darrell Floyd collected 43 points as Furman romped over Virginia Tech 85-68. Maryland overpowered Wake Forest 61-51. Duke disposed of Georgia Tech 87-66. Vanderbilt swept to a 78-69 conquest over Oklahoma.

Writers Disagree With Secretaries In Picking Horses

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Racing writers agreed with track secretaries that Nashua was the best Horse of the Year, but they didn't see eye to eye on fillies.

Claiborne Farm's Doubledogdare was fancied as the best 2-year-old filly by most of the 172 writers participating in the annual poll by Turf & Sport Digest. The 21 racing secretaries picking the best for the Thoroughbred Racing Assn. had voted for Howell E. Jackson's Nasrina.

Otherwise, the writers and handicappers were in accord that Belair Stud's Nashua, who is to be auctioned, was the best 3-year-old and the champion of them all in 1955. They also agreed that Mrs. Anson A. Bigelow's Nail was the best 2-year-old colt and High Gun the outstanding handicapper horse of 4 years and older.

Passing must be passed at Tulane. When the Greenies defeated Georgia 14-0 this year they did not complete a pass.

Frisco Tops Colts, 35-24

McElhenny, Tittle Star For Winners

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11 (AP)—Hugh McElhenny ripped off two touchdowns and Y. A. Tittle passed for two more today as the San Francisco 49ers defeated the Baltimore Colts 35-24 in a National Football League game.

Before a crowd of 35,371, the 49ers zoomed to a 28-3 halftime lead on the strength of a three-touchdown scoring thrust in the final seven minutes of the second quarter. But they were on the ropes most of the final period.

George Shaw, held to only three pass completions in the first half, connected freely in the second. He completed for a pair of touchdowns on tosses to Jim Mutscheller for 33 yards and to Lloyd Colterbaugh for 1. Shaw added the third Colt marker himself on a 14-yard sprint.

Bert Rechichar booted the three conversions.

San Francisco, scoring on a three yard slant by Dick Moglee the first time it had the ball, was completely in control for the first two quarters.

The 49ers rammed over three quick tallies in the uproarious second quarter. They drove 74 yards in 12 plays. Tittle passing to Billy Wilson with seven left to go for the touchdown. A poor Colt punt after the next kickoff gave the 49ers possession on their own 44 moments later. Tittle hit Joe Arenas with a 39-yard scoring pass. Hardy Brown intercepted a Shaw pass on the first Colt offensive play after the kickoff and returned it to the 13. From there McElhenny skirted end for the score.

Baltimore 3 0 7 14-24
San Francisco 7 21 7 0-35

Baltimore scoring: Touchdowns—Mutscheller (33, pass from Shaw); Shaw (14, run); Colterbaugh (1, pass from Shaw). Conversions—Rechichar 3. Field goals — Kerkorian (31 yards).

San Francisco scoring: Touchdowns — Moglee (3, plunge); McElhenny 2 (13, run; 2, plunge); Wilson (10, pass from Tittle); Arenas (39, pass-run from Tittle). Conversions—Soltau 5.

Redskins Win Over Steelers By 28-17 Score

Janowicz Sets Team Record 88 Points

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Washington Redskins rallied behind Eddie LeBaron's passing today to defeat the Pittsburgh Steelers 28-17 in a game which saw halfback Vic Janowicz set a new Washington season scoring record.

Janowicz scored 10 points on one touchdown and four conversions to run his total for the year to 88, three more than Dick Poillon scored in 1947.

The half-frozen crowd of 20,547 watched the 'Skins win their eighth game of the season, the greatest number of Washington victories since their 1945 divisional championship year.

And it was little LeBaron who did it, leading the Redskins on three scoring marches in the second half after the Steelers had built up a 17-7 lead.

Eddie threw 11 yards to Ralph Thomas for one touchdown at the end of a 70-yard march to make it 14-17 and then pitched 5 to Dale Atkeson at the end of a 65-yard drive for the winning score.

Pittsburgh scoring: Touchdowns, Rogel (1, plunge); Mathews (29, pass from Finks). Field goal, Weed (9). Conversions, Weed 2.

Washington scoring: Touchdowns, Elter (22, run); Thomas (11, pass from LeBaron); Atkeson (5, pass from LeBaron); Janowicz (3, run). Conversions, Janowicz 4.

Giants Defeat Detroit, 24-19

Walker Ends Career, Point Total Is 534

DETROIT, Dec. 11 (AP)—Hallback Frank Gifford scored two touchdowns within 80 seconds of the second quarter and the New York Giants held on to beat the Detroit Lions 24-19, in Briggs Stadium today.

A crowd of 45,929, in 29-degree temperature, saw Gifford race 21 yards for one touchdown, then combine with quarterback Don Heinrich on a 37-yard pass play for the other.

The two scores broke a 7-7 tie and gave the Giants a record of 6-5-1 for the season in the National Football League.

The defeat was the ninth for the Lions, fallen champions of the Western Division, compared with a scant three victories.

Doak Walker, playing his final game for the Lions, tallied 11 points to clinch league scoring honors. He scored on a pass from quarterback Harry Gilmer and booted a 19-yard field goal and two extra points.

It gave Walker 534 points for his six-year career, moving him into third place in the all-time scoring race. Only Don Hutson and Bob Waterfield rank ahead of the Texan, who is giving up football to devote his time to business.

New York 7 14 3 0-24
Detroit 7 3 2 7-19

New York scoring: Touchdowns—Webster (6, run); Gifford 2 (21, run; 37, pass-run from Heinrich). Conversions: Agajanian 3. Field goal: Agajanian (24).

Detroit scoring: Touchdowns—Walker (25, pass-run from Gilmer); Carpenter (19, run). Conversions: Walker 2. Field goal: Walker (19). Safety: Long (blocked Lundy punt, ball rolling through end zone).

Season Marks Are Shattered In Region One

Washington's Total 235; Three Counties Report Total 1,333

New records were established by all three counties of District No. 1, comprising Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties, during the six-day gunning season for deer which ended on Saturday.

A total of 1,333 bucks were slain in the three counties and that's only 287 less than the state record of 1,620. Maryland's overall total in 1954 was 1,660 but that included 40 deer taken by bow and arrow hunters. Bowman bagged three whitetails in Allegany last year and the same number during the special season this year.

Garrett county, as usual, topped the state this year with 608 kills. This topped by 16 the previous high of 592 in 1952. Joseph A. Minke, regional game warden, last night, announced that Washington county's total for the six days was 235 and that bettered the previous high of 145 in 1932 by ninety.

Allegany county shattered the previous season mark of 281 set in 1954 on Tuesday after 246 kills on the first day and 86 on the second. Sixty-nine deer fell before hunters' guns in Allegany county Saturday, soaring the six-day total to 490. That topped the previous high by 209.

One of the most noteworthy features of the 1955 season was that not a single accident was reported in this section even though the hunting population had reached an all-time high.

Four members of a party of hunters from the State Adjutant General's Office, Baltimore, bagged bucks on the final day, according to Graydon Dunlap, checker at Shipway's Garage, Green Ridge. They were: Maj. Joseph M. Parvis, Baltimore, 9-195, Tarpon Ridge; Maj. Robert Baker, Baltimore, 6-145, Town Hill, and Maj. Elwood Lambert, Baltimore, 4-125, Green Ridge. They were at the camp of Sgt. John Divico, supply sergeant of Headquarters Company, of the local National Guard unit.

Minke checked a 105-pound spike buck that was killed on Green Ridge by Leo W. Rhodes of Jane Frazier Village on Saturday.

Winters, Stone Beagles Cop Final Point Trials

38 Hounds Qualify For Winners' Stake Set For January 9

Hounds owned by Elmer Winters, of Cresaptown, and D. C. Stone, of Cumberland, were judged the best in their respective classes in the sixth and final of a series of point trials held yesterday by the Allegany Beagle Club on the Barton Dairy Farm, Pinto.

Winters' Daisy paced a field of ten entries in the 13 inch class while Stone's Shady Ridge Dixie was adjudged best of the nine entered in the 15 inch class.

Winters' Daisy finished in first place among the 13 inch class during the season with a total of 59½ points. Shady Ridge Dixie headed the 15 inch class with 29 tallies. Owners of each hound will receive a trophy.

Trophies also will be awarded to winners in each division in the Winners' Stake to be staged by the club on Sunday, January 8. Twenty-four 13 inch hounds and fourteen 15 inch Beagles have qualified for the annual event.

Judging in both divisions yesterday was done by Galen Ritchey, Roaring Spring, Pa., and Lou Sticher, of Cumberland.

The results:

Rams Rack Up Green Bay On Coast, 31-17

Play Browns Dec. 26
For NFL Title; Waller
Runs 55 Yards For TD

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11 (AP)—Rookie halfback Ron Waller cracked loose with a 55-yard touchdown run on the fourth play of the game and the Los Angeles Rams swept to a 31-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers today, wrapping up the Western Conference title of the National Football League.

A crowd of 90,535, largest of the professional season, saw the Rams capture their fourth divisional title since 1949 and the right to play the Eastern winners, the Cleveland Browns, in Memorial Coliseum here Dec. 26.

Los Angeles, with a regular season record of 8-3-1, got four touchdowns and a field goal.

Waller, from the University of Maryland, scored two other touchdowns in a brilliant performance.

The Rams blasted out two touchdowns in the third quarter to sew up the game, one on a spectacular 55-yard punt return by halfback Skeet Quinlan. The other followed a pass interception on a throw by the workhorse of the Packer team, Tobin Roze.

The Rams knew they had to win or tie this game because they knew before taking the field the Chicago Bears had defeated the Philadelphia Eagles and were in contention for the title. The crowd must have waited at home to hear the outcome of the game at Chicago because it arrived late, with hundreds streaming in long after the kick-off.

Green Bay scoring—Touchdowns: Knefelc 2 (9, pass from Roze; 5, pass from Roze), Conversions: Cone 2 (placekick, run). Field goal: Cone (14).

Los Angeles scoring—Touchdowns: Waller 3 (55 run, 1 plunge, 2 plunge); Quinlan (55 punt return); Conversions: Richter 4. Field goal: Richter (18).

Fistic Card Appears Thin

Dupas And Lightburn
Open Week's Program

(By The Associated Press)
Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler, lightweight contender Ralph Dupas, Del Flanagan, Gil Turner and Lulu Perez are the featured fighters in an ordinary national boxing program this week.

After last week's meaty card, this one looks thin by comparison. Saddler, who may defend his crown soon against Manila's Flashy Elorde, meets veteran Davey Gallardo in a non-title scrap in San Francisco Monday night.

Dupas, 20-year-old third ranking lightweight contender from New Orleans, takes on fast rising Ludwig Lightburn, 21, of British Honduras, in a radio-television (NBC-TV and radio, 10 p.m., EST) 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Turner, Philadelphia 154-pounder, takes on middleweight Jackie LaBua of East Meadow, N.Y., in a radio-TV 10-rounder (ABC-TV, radio, 10 p.m. EST) at Syracuse, N.Y., Wednesday night.

Perez, Brooklyn Lightweight, opposes Italy's Paolo Rossi in a TV 10-rounder (Dumont-TV, 10 p.m. EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Flanagan and his brother Glen both earn Christmas money on Thursday night. Del, a welterweight contender, encounters Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix in his home town of St. Paul. Glen Flanagan goes against L. C. Morgan of Chicago at Troy, Ohio.

Joe Amalfitano Sent To Millers By Giants

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (INS)—The New York Giants announced the sale tonight of infielder Joe Amalfitano to Minneapolis of the American Association.

The 20-year-old third baseman from Loyola University spent two years with the Giants as a bonus player, working mainly as a pinch hitter and pinch runner.

He went to bat 22 times in 36 games overall and got five hits for a .227 average. The Giants now have 38 players on their roster, although four of them, including bonus player Paul Giel, don't count because they are in military service.

Family Matter

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Joe Walton, ace pass receiver on the Pitt football team which handed West Virginia its first defeat this season, is the son of a former WVU line coach.

Walton's father, the late Frank (Tiger) Walton, was coaching at West Virginia in 1949 under Dudley DeGroot.

Snead Wins Miami Open Sixth Time

Hangs Up Record, Beats Tommy Bolt

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—After shattering the course record with a 6-under par 29 on the back nine to tie for first, Sam Snead won his sixth Miami Open Golf Tournament today in a sudden-death playoff with Tommy Bolt.

Snead grabbed top money of $2,200 in the 54-hole event, thanks to a spectacular recovery shot following a poor drive on the first extra hole. Snead had a par 4.

Bolt, transplanted Texan registering out of Chattanooga, Tenn., took a bogey 5 after missing the green and chipping too strong. He collected a $1,500 check.

Both Snead and Bolt barreled out of the pack from 4 strokes back to grab the lead from Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N.Y. Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., slammer, fired a 35-29-64 for a 201, 9 strokes under par for the 6,620-yard par 35-35-70 course.

Bolt scored a steady 32-32-64.

Souchak closed with a scrambling 71 for a 204 total and a three-way tie for third with Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, Mo.

Stranahan and Harrison started the final round in a four-way tie for second. They shot 69s.

Spalding Charged With Violation Of Anti-Trust Law

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (INS)—A. G. Spalding and Brothers, Inc., one of the nation's largest manufacturers of athletic equipment, was charged by the Federal Trade Commission today with violating the anti-trust merger law because it bought out one of its top competitors.

The FTC said Spalding may have lessened its own competition by acquiring the Rawlings Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis. The two firms are among the four leading manufacturers and distributors of athletic goods in the U.S.

The Spalding Company, which is located in Chicopee, Mass., has 30 days to file an answer to the complaint.

Pitt Receives Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Pittsburgh, which will meet Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2, today officially received for the third time the Lambert Trophy as the outstanding Eastern college football team.

The Panthers won the trophy in 1936, the first year the award was made by Victory A. Lambert and Henry L. Lambert in memory of their father. That was the year Pitt went to the Rose Bowl. Pitt repeated again in 1937.

Browns' Late Spurt Sinks Cards, 35-24

Chalk Up Three TDs In Closing Minutes

CLEVELAND, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns crammed three touchdowns into the last four minutes today to overcome a 10-point deficit and defeat the Chicago Cardinals 35-24.

The Browns, who wrapped up the Eastern Division championship a week ago, finished the regular National League season like football kings on a snow-covered field before 25,914.

Otto Graham, pass master of the Clevelanders for 10 years, bowed out before the home fans by completing 13 of 25 passes for 241 yards and three touchdowns.

The Cards, behind 14-6 at the first quarter, stormed back for a touchdown in the second period and two in the third to take the lead, but Lamar McHan and Dave Mann each missed two of the conversion attempts. Lou Groza converted after all five of the Browns' scores.

The Cardinals scores came on a 29-yard end run by Mann on the first play after a recovered fumble, a 67-yard pass play from McHan to Max Boydston, a 78-yard punt return by Ollie Matson and a 6-yard pass from McHan to end Don Stonesifer.

Graham tossed 19-and 41-yard touchdown passes to Ray Renfro and a 35-yarder to Dante Lavelli. The other Browns scores came on a 10-yard dash around end by Curly Morrison and a 31-yard dash off tackle by Bob Smith, the latter with 15 seconds to play.

Cleveland ..... 14 0 0 21-35
Chicago ..... 6 6 12 0-24

Cleveland scoring: Touchdowns, Renfro 2 (19 and 41-yard passes); Lavelli (35-yard pass); Morrison (10-yard run); Smith (31-yard run). Conversions, Groza 5.

Chicago scoring: Touchdowns, Mann (29-yard run); Boydston (67-yard pass); Matson (78-yard punt return); Stonesifer (6-yard pass).

90 535 See Los Angeles Cop Western Conference Crown

Rams Rack Up Green Bay On Coast, 31-17

Play Browns Dec. 26
For NFL Title; Waller
Runs 55 Yards For TD

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11 (AP)—Rookie halfback Ron Waller cracked loose with a 55-yard touchdown run on the fourth play of the game and the Los Angeles Rams swept to a 31-17 victory over the Green Bay Packers today, wrapping up the Western Conference title of the National Football League.

A crowd of 90,535, largest of the professional season, saw the Rams capture their fourth divisional title since 1949 and the right to play the Eastern winners, the Cleveland Browns, in Memorial Coliseum here Dec. 26.

Los Angeles, with a regular season record of 8-3-1, got four touchdowns and a field goal.

Waller, from the University of Maryland, scored two other touchdowns in a brilliant performance.

The Rams blasted out two touchdowns in the third quarter to sew up the game, one on a spectacular 55-yard punt return by halfback Skeet Quinlan. The other followed a pass interception on a throw by the workhorse of the Packer team, Tobin Rote.

The Rams knew they had to win or tie the game because they knew before taking the field the Philadelphia Eagles were in contention for the title. The crowd must have waited at home to hear the outcome of the game at Chicago because it arrived late, with hundreds streaming in long after the kick off.

Green Bay ..... 3 7 0 7-17

Los Angeles ..... 7 14 3-31

Green Bay scoring—Touchdowns: Knaflec 2 (9, pass from Rote); 5 pass from Rote). Conversions: Cone 2 (placekick, run). Field goal: Cone (14).

Los Angeles scoring—Touchdowns: Waller 3 (55 run, 1 plunge, 2 plunge); Quinlan (55 punt return). Conversions: Richter 4. Field goal: Richter (18).

Fistic Card Appears Thin

Dupas And Lightburn
Open Week's Program

[By The Associated Press]
Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler, lightweight contender Ralph Dupas, Del Flanagan, Gil Turner and Lulu Perez are the featured fighters in an ordinary national boxing program this week.

After last week's meaty card this one looks thin by comparison. Saddler, who may defend his crown soon against Manila's Flashy Elorde, meets veteran Davey Galardo in a non-title scrap in San Francisco Monday night.

Dupas, 20-year-old third ranking lightweight contender from New Orleans, takes on fast rising Lulu Lightburn, 21, of British Honduras, in a radio-television (NBC-TV and radio, 10 p.m., EST) 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Turner, Philadelphia 154-pounder, takes on middleweight Jackie LaBua of East Meadow, N.Y., in a radio-TV 10-rounder (ABC-TV, radio, 10 p.m. EST) at Syracuse, N.Y., Wednesday night.

Perez, Brooklyn Lightweight, opposes Italy's Paolo Rosi in a TV 10-rounder (Dumont-TV, 10 p.m. EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena Monday night.

Flanagan and his brother Glen both earn Christmas money on Thursday night. Del, a welterweight contender, encounters Jimmy Martinez of Phoenix in his home town of St. Paul. Glen Flanagan goes against L. C. Morgan of Chicago at Troy, Ohio.

Bolt scored a steady 32-32-64. Souchak closed with a scrambling 71 for a 204 total and a three-way tie for third with Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, Mo.

Stranahan and Harrison started the final round in a four-way tie for second. They shot 69s.

Bears Conquer Eagles, 17-10

Pihos Grabs Eleven
Passes In Last Tilt

CHICAGO, Dec. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Bears did all they could to win a divisional title today in closing with a 17-10 triumph over the Philadelphia Eagles, but the Los Angeles Rams met the challenge with a pressurized victory of their own.

The Western title of the National Football League went to the Rams, who defeated the Green Bay Packers 31-17 several hours after the Bears took the Eagles.

Los Angeles and the Bears exchanged regular play with eight victories. But the Rams lost only three, and tied one, while the Bears had four defeats.

A Wrigley field crowd of 34,783 gave an excited yelp of relief when with 72 seconds left, George Blanda booted a 24-yard field goal to make it 17-10 for the Bears.

Blanda also pitched a 5-yard touchdown pass to Rick Casares 41 seconds before the first half ended to give the Bears a 14-3 lead.

Bobby Watkins' 2-yard plunge scored the opening Bear touchdown in the first period.

The Eagles' scoring came on Dick Bielecki's 36-yard field goal in the first quarter and on Adrian Burk's 37-yard pitch to Toy Ledbetter in the final quarter.

This was the final pro game Pete Pihos, and he grabbed 11 passes for 114 yards.

Keyser Defeats Alumni, 59-50

KEYSER, Dec. 11 — Keyser High School opened its basketball season Friday night by beating the Alumni, 59-50.

Outscored from the field, 18 to 15, Coach John Shelton's team meshed 29 of 47 free throws to win the game. The grads made good 14 of 21 charity tosses.

Scott Ward banged in 26 points, including five field goals and 15-20 at the foul line. "Rick" Keparth of the varsity and Jones of the Alumni scored 10 points each. The lineups:

Snead Wins Miami Open Sixth Time

Hangs Up Record,
Beats Tommy Bolt

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—After shattering the course record with a 6-under par 29 on the back nine to tie for first, Sam Snead won his sixth Miami Open Golf Tournament today in a sudden-death playoff with Tommy Bolt.

Snead grabbed top money of $2,200 in the 54-hole event, thanks to a spectacular recovery shot following a poor drive on the first extra hole. Snead had a par 4.

Bolt, transplanted Texan registering out of Chattanooga, Tenn., took a bogey 5 after missing the green and chipping too strong. He collected a $1,500 check.

Both Snead and Bolt barreled out of the pack from 4 strokes back to grab the lead from Mike Souchak of Grossingers, N.Y. Snead, the White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., slammer, fired a 35-29-64 for a 201, 9 strokes under par for the 6,620-yard par 35-35-70 course.

Bolt scored a steady 32-32-64. Souchak closed with a scrambling 71 for a 204 total and a three-way tie for third with Frank Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Louis, Mo.

Stranahan and Harrison started the final round in a four-way tie for second. They shot 69s.

Spalding Charged With Violation Of Anti-Trust Law

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (INS)—A. G. Spalding and Brothers, Inc., one of the nation's largest manufacturers of athletic equipment, was charged by the Federal Trade Commission today with violating the anti-trust merger law because it bought out one of its top competitors.

The FTC said Spalding may have lessened its own competition by acquiring the Rawlings Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis. The two firms are among the four leading manufacturers and distributors of athletic goods in the U.S.

The Spalding Company, which is located in Chicopee, Mass., has 30 days to file an answer to the complaint.

Pitt Receives Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Pittsburgh, which will meet Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2, today officially received for the third time the Lambert Trophy as the outstanding Eastern college football team.

The Panthers won the trophy in 1936, the first year the award was made by Victory A. Lambert and Henry L. Lambert in memory of their father. That was the year Pitt went to the Rose Bowl. Pitt repeated again in 1937.

Keeping Up With Hollywood by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11 (INS)—The very first casting of any kind in "Gertrude Lawrence as Mrs. A" is Bob Hope. Bob appeared in benefits many times with Gertrude, and he telephones from London that he will play himself with whomever is selected by Paramount.

I met my old friend Fanny Holzman, the famed woman lawyer, who is handling the Gertrude Lawrence story, and she told me that Mel Shavelson and Jack Rose have a fine script and the only thing that worries everyone now is getting the right actress to play Gertrude Lawrence. So far, no one is set.

They think so well of Lloyd Nolan they're keeping him right on the Warner lot. But thinking well of Lloyd isn't any novelty. Few actors have had the acclaim he received as Captain Queeg in "Caine Mutiny Court Martial." Lloyd is the first actor signed by William Holden for his initial Toluca production "Toward the Unknown." Mervyn Le Roy takes over as producer director in January. He's finishing "The Bad Seed," and Lloyd is working in "Santiago," both on the same lot—so I assume Merv had a hand in casting Lloyd.

The only sour note injected into the warm, nostalgic George Awards given to motion picture stars, directors and cameramen who reigned from 1915 to 1925 was the mention of Charles Chaplin. Chaplin refused to allow any of his pictures to be shown along with the other old films of those early days. I've never heard such an ominous silence as when his name came up.

In contrast was the applause given Buster Keaton, whose grave illness prevented him from being present. I wish he could have heard the spontaneous tribute paid him.

Looking at the young Mary Pickford, Mae Marsh, Ronald Colman, Harold Lloyd, Cecil B.

De Mille in their old pictures on the screen, and then seeing them at the awards as they are today was an interesting experience.

At long last, Jack Benny gets his heart's desire and will play a lover! Yes, indeed, Jack will appear in "The Honest Man" on the General Electric Theatre, and guess who's his love interest? Zsa Zsa Gabor, no less.

In the play, Jack is so naive, so honest that every woman falls in love with him. (And how he's going to go after that role!) His biggest love interest, however, is a glamorous actress played by Zsa Zsa.

They'll film the show next Thursday.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Susan Hayward is finding Hal Hayes very good company. She was like the old Susan at the Bantam Cock restaurant where she had dinner with the personable Hal.

Mrs. Rock Hudson was blindfolded by her bridegroom, and when she was told to look, there was an eight weeks old silver grey poodle all done up in a big red bow for her birthday.

Uncle Miltie is recovering so satisfactorily he'll be able to return to his TV program early in January.

Saw Bob Wagner in a party at Romanoff's. And a few nights ago he was with Audrey Meadows at Mocambo. Bob's been away on location a long time and is just getting back in circulation.

Met Alec Guinness at Chasen's and he tells me his wife and son will be here to spend Christmas with him. I've never heard more sincere applause than Alec received at the Audience Awards dinner. We'd like to keep him here.

Pope De Lucia threw a stag party for Byrnie Foy's birthday. All the town's eligibles, Bentley Ryan, Richard Gully, Sy Bartlett, Steve Crane and Al Mathes dropped by to say happy, happy to Byrnie.

Sunday Movie Taxes Show Fall In Recent Years

The receipts from the city's Sunday movie tax has dropped to one third of what it was nine years ago, according to Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor.

Notice of the steady drop came earlier this year when the Mayor and Council were asked to contribute to the Community Chest.

The Sunday movie tax of five cents per admission is used solely by the Mayor and Council for charitable contributions.

In years past, the city could always be counted on for about $9,000 to support the nine Red Feather agencies.

Last year, it turned out that less than $4,000 was turned over after the Mayor and Council had pledged $9,000. The money just wasn't there.

In looking back at the Sunday movie tax receipts, one can see the change in the recreational habits of Cumberlanders.

In 1946-47 fiscal year, the city received $15,830.45 from this source, but during the fiscal year that ended June 30 this year, receipts totaled only $5,094.90.

The drop is shown in these figures furnished by Gibson:

1947-48	$13,826.45
1948-49	15,410.30
1949-50	11,500.25
1950-51	10,080.55
1951-52	9,422
1952-53	8,026.45
1953-54	5,756.35
1954-55	5,094.90

So far this year, starting July 1, for five months, only $1,727.38 has been received in Sunday movie tax. This indicates that the figure will be even lower by the end of the fiscal year next June 30.

There are a number of reasons advanced for the drop. One is the increased number of television sets in the homes, and another is public's turn to the outdoor theatres, which have come into being in recent years.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Holiday Hostess

Who was your favorite Christmas party hostess last year? Don't you hope that the party you give this year will be as successful as yours?

We've been talking about Christmas parties in a class at the Powers School, and two points were agreed on. First, that the hostesses who give the best parties have as much fun as everyone else, and second, that they use so much imagination. The votes were a landslide for simple planning, decoration, and refreshments that are full of ideas, not to elaborate and formal affairs.

Thoughtful members of the class feel that the big Christmas party is less appropriate to the season than the smaller one where the group can draw into a closer circle of warmth and friendship. A tree trimming party for six to ten persons is a favorite, where the hostess supplies sparkling materials for the guests to turn into tree ornaments of their own designs. This brings out unexpected talents to the delight of everybody and insures a happy bustle of shared activity. Another favorite is the party which includes a good accompanist—and it can be on a guitar as well as on a piano—so everyone can carol together.

Congential guests come predisposed toward making your party a success, inspired as they are now with the spirit of the holidays. It's simply up to you to match their high spirits—to be as happy and relaxed about giving a party as you would be about going to one. You will be if you don't invite too many of them to strain the service you can offer or the space you have, and if preparations are made well in advance to include imaginative touches of your own. And you women are wonders at those imaginative touches. One trip through the Christmas-bright stores to see what's available and you have twice as many ideas as you need.

Maryland Youths Win Top 4-H Awards

VALUABLE awards have been won by five Maryland 4-H Club members for outstanding achievement in the 1955 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds, Bread Demonstration, and Frozen Foods programs. The awards are presented to state winners in each of the programs.

Jean Johansson, 17, of Vienna, is the 1955 State winner in the 4-H Beautification of Home Grounds program. Her 19-jewel wrist watch was provided by Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen of Chicago.

During her eight years in club work, Jean improved the family's home surroundings by mowing the lawn, leveling the ground and seeding where the grass was sparse. The mail box was painted and flowers planted to lend color and beauty. Bricks were inserted to keep grass and flowers from washing away in some places.

Jean is also carrying projects in clothing, food preparation, canning and freezing and home management, and has won many awards on her exhibits.

She is a member of the Vienna Junior 4-H Club and the Senior Council, led by Mrs. Balvin Brinsfield and Mrs. Alice Parker of Doverchester county.

Vivian Wolfe, 17, of Myersville, has been singled out for State honors in the 4-H Frozen Foods program. She was awarded a $50 U.S. Savings Bond, provided by the International Harvester Co.

In winning the State honors, she froze 672 quarts of fruits and vegetables, and 1,846 pounds of meat. She learned skills in preparing and packaging foods, how to use freezing equipment correctly, and the types of foods best adapted for freezing.

Vivian made 73 exhibits and won 16 blues and 14 reds at all these programs are conducted under the direction of the Cooperative Extension Service.

Ridgeley School To Present Program

IN THE average bridge game a false step by the declarer is not necessarily fatal, because the defenders are apt to give back the trick. When, however, the defense is airtight, as it was in the deal below, the declarer can't afford to slip ever so slightly.

To waste his king to force dummy's ace.

South now led the spade eight to his jack and returned a heart toward dummy. West, of course, ducked, and declarer, unfortunately, for himself, put in dummy's ten. East won and shrewdly led another low diamond, quite willing to give South this trick in order to leave West with a diamond for communication purposes.

South, realizing that his only chance to win this trick was to put up the jack, did so, but he could not get his ninth trick. West held tightly to his last diamond, and after South had run his spades and two high clubs, he came to the end of his rope.

It is true that South had something of a guess in the heart suit, but an expert declarer would almost certainly put up the king instead of the ten. South originally lacked two aces, and without any other reliable guide, it is a good idea to assume that under such circumstances the aces are split—i.e., that each declarer has one. (There were other reasons also, more subtle.) The diamond queen was well marked with East, and therefore South had only to get a heart trick quickly to be almost sure of his contract.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 NT (final bid)

West elected to lead the nine of clubs, and declarer jumped to the conclusion that the lead was "top of nothing."

Dummy played low and East went up with the ace, then shifted to the diamond four. South properly put in the nine, and West had

One Man Triumph

I can recall few more painful experiences than Maurice Chevalier's opening on Broadway this fall. Mr. Chevalier rattling on about his extreme old age, about his love, about his health, about his hollow echoes in a house packed with people who mostly stared and wondered. Consider Chevalier's international reputation, it was downright embarrassing and after a single act of it I sloped off into the night to the nearest saloon. Hardier souls who stayed on reported that the second act was a little better but not much.

Mr. Chevalier, I thought, had had his day which had spanned some 55 years in show business. But then Mr. Chevalier bobbed up again on a Max Liebman spectacular the other day and there the old indestructible seemed as fresh and buoyant and Gallic as ever. It's a mistake ever to count the old French charmer down and out. He's been counted out a couple times before and always he's bounded back.

I don't know why Mr. Chevalier was so bad on Broadway and so good on TV but I rather suspect that it was the difference in mediums. Mr. Chevalier is a wow in nightclubs and this is a nightclub medium. It's as intimate as a parlor game and in that atmosphere Mr. Chevalier thrives. The audience, despite the fact they run into the millions, becomes almost part of the act, vicariously sharing Chevalier's great zest for the boulevards, for spring, for the ladies. The songs and the jokes were hardly a whit different from those he used on the Broadway stage—in fact, they have changed very little over the years—but they were live and sparkling on TV where they were awfully flat on the stage. I can't explain this.

The idea of handing the stage over to a single operative at a time seems to be taking hold, though. There were Mary Martin and Noel Coward, for instance. Sometimes they operated as a duo but mostly they had the stage all to themselves. And presently Victor Borge will come along with a 90-minute show in which he will hold forth all by himself. Borge had been doing this for years on Broadway in one of the most incredible one-man shows of all time. But up to recently it had been considered impractical to let him try it on TV. It had been the custom to give Borge a six-minute or seven-minute spot on TV and he barely gets his eyebrows warmed up in that time. Another lone operative is Marcel Marceau, the French pantomimist who enchanted audiences with a one-man stage show which drew from the critics as delicious a paean of praise as you're ever likely to read. Mr. Marceau was on the bill with Chevalier and about his art I have some reservations. His is a superbly gifted face and body and hands; he can suggest with his hands a dying butterfly or with his legs a whole skating rink or with his body youth, maturity, old age and death. But it all seems a little cold and remote, a trick like juggling, admirably difficult but not especially human. It's an art, all right, but it's abstract art.

The elevation of Sylvester L. (Pat) Weaver from president of NBC to chairmanship of the board ends an era and does not necessarily usher in a better one. Weaver, for all his flamboyant syntax, had an immensely important influence not only on his own network but on the whole industry. Television, when he came into the picture, was beginning to box itself in with endless repetitions of a few unvarying formula shows, most of them a half hour long.

It was Weaver who tore the stale old structure apart and rebuilt the whole concept of programming. Half-hour shows were replaced with hour-long, hour-and-a-half and two-hour shows with the eventual promises of their getting even longer and more elaborate. The biggest stars, the finest authors, the greatest classics were shovelled on to TV and along with it came whole new, strictly television ideas like "Wide World of Sports." So pervasive was Weaver's influence that CBS had to reorganize much of its programming in the Weaver mould and now ABC, with its forthcoming 90-minute dramas, seems to be falling in line, too.

Weaver was not invariably right, as who is, but no one will ever accuse him of a lack of courage or imagination. It is only to be hoped that that courage and imagination will not be wholly lost to NBC.

54 Plymouth Suburban

This light green finish Station Wagon formerly belonged to a Doctor in town and he kept it in tip-top condition with regular checkups. Equipment includes heater, defroster, electric windshield wipers, signal lights, clock, air-foam seats, backup lights, plus the powerful 6 cylinder motor with standard shift to give you economical gas mileage. Ideal for the second car or for the first car as it has only been driven 21,700 miles and our price is $1,495

51 Nash Rambler

Owned since new by a local woman who gave the car exceptional care. This convertable run has low mileage and is loaded with extras. Equipment includes snow tires on rear, radio, Weather Eye heater, clock, turn signals, electric R. good seat covers, and backup lights. Gas mileage with the overdrive is over 26 miles per gallon and drive this one today. Priced at only $545

54 Plymouth Suburban
This light green finish Station Wagon formerly belonged to a Doctor in town and he kept it in tip-top condition with regular checks. Equipment includes heater, defroster, electric windshield wipers, signal lights, clock, air-flow seats, backup lights, plus the powerful 6 cylinder motor with standard shift to give you economical gas mileage. Ideal for the second car or for business, as it has only been driven 21,700 miles and our price

$1495

51 Nash Rambler
Owned since new by a local woman who gave the car exceptional care. This convertible sedan has low mileage and is loaded with extras. Equipment includes ammeter, signal lights, radio, Weather Eye heater, clock, turn signals, electric top, good seat, and backup lights. Gas mileage with the overdrive is over 26 miles per gallon. See and drive this one today. Priced at only

Two Men Hurt In Auto Crash At Mt. Savage

Police Investigate Several Collisions

Two men were badly injured early yesterday when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve on Route 36 in Mt. Savage and crashed against a home.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital were Francis Michaels, 26, of Bowling Green, and Thomas H. Joiner, 25, of Mt. Savage. Both were listed in "fair" condition last night.

Michaels, driver of the car, was suffering from a left ankle injury and complained of face, chest and shoulder injuries. Joiner, riding with him, suffered a fractured left leg and multiple lacerations.

Trooper R. D. Wolford said the accident occurred about 5:20 a. m. yesterday as Michaels, driving north on Route 36, failed to make a right hand turn, went out of control and hit a home on the Cessna turn on the lower end of Mt. Savage.

State Police investigated two other auto mishaps yesterday in which one person was slightly injured.

Mrs. Betty Reeder, Bedford, Pa., was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for face lacerations suffered when the car in which she was riding collided with another near Belle Grove, about 25 miles east of here.

Trooper Lindberg Cook brought the injured woman to the hospital after investigating the two-car crash. Cook said the Reeder car, driven by Ray L. Reeder and occupied by his wife and two children, smashed head-on into a vehicle driven by Claude O. Caskey Sr., of Martinsburg, on a small bridge.

Reeder, his children and Mr. and Mrs. Caskey were unhurt in the collision.

In a separate accident on Polish Mountain a car operated by Clarence C. VanMeter, 58, of Flintstone, hit another vehicle driven by Roy Ketterman, 24, of Annapolis.

Trooper Cook said VanMeter, driving east, attempted a left turn into Polish Mountain Inn and struck the left side of Ketterman's car which was traveling west toward Cumberland.

Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $350 but neither of the two men, who were riding alone, was injured.

Four men narrowly escaped serious injury in a head-on collision Saturday night at Wiley Ford.

Treated at Memorial Hospital and released were Thomas Rieglerman, 23, of 44 Virginia Street, Keyser; William Haines, 21, of 342 Virginia Street, Keyser; Frank Metz, 31, of 91 Henderson Avenue, and Paul Geatz, 27, Valley Road.

Mrs. Ella Larkin Proudfoot—doll making is her hobby.

Fire Destroys Midland Home

Fire destroyed the home of Mrs. Catherine Brinegar, Vale Summit Road, about one-half mile from Midland, at an early hour this morning.

Midland Fire Company received a call shortly after midnight and called upon Frostburg and other neighboring communities for assistance. Firemen were unable to save the dwelling as it was enveloped in flames when they arrived.

Sketchy details from the scene indicated that no one was injured in the blaze and occupants of the house escaped. There were no early estimates of damage or probable cause and firemen remained at the scene at 2 a. m.

Firemen Quench Excelsior Blaze

South Cumberland Fire Company was called to the B&O Rolling Mill yard yesterday afternoon when excelsior used to protect pipe being shipped here for the North Branch water line was set afire.

Firemen said children scattered piles of excelsior and then set it afire.

The merry blaze spread to timbers on which iron beams were stacked and ignited the timbers.

Fire fighters, on the scene for almost an hour, said damage was negligible.

Making Dolls Is Rewarding Hobby Of Retired Teacher

By C. WESLEY BLACKBURN
News Staff Writer

Making dolls which cause the eyes of little girls to glow like Christmas candles is one of the rewarding hobbies of Mrs. Ella Larkin Proudfoot, 532 Cumberland Street.

Never one to hold her hands and feet, Mrs. Proudfoot has found, since her retirement from an active teaching career 15 years ago, that keeping busy is one of the best roads to contentment.

The hobby started back in the 1920s, when Mrs. Proudfoot began a doll collection while teaching in Welch, W. Va.

Now numbering about 197 dolls, the collection includes famous characters in art, history, literature, religion and foreign countries.

She has shown her doll collection to a number of organizations here including the Sacred Heart Hospital Auxiliary, of which she is an active member.

While living in Florida shortly after her retirement, she expanded the doll hobby to include the making of dolls for commercial purposes.

So far, she has sold 153 dolls and given away another 47 for charitable purposes and as gifts.

Entirely hand made, her dolls are cut from original patterns, with yarn hair, natural looking hands, embroidered features—and real rouge on their rosy cheeks.

Types include a Colonial doll, which she sells through commercial channels, a boy doll, cuddle doll and a two-face model which is asleep or awake, depending upon which side is turned.

Mrs. Proudfoot learned the art of needlework well from her mother during her childhood years in Paw Paw, W. Va.

She was educated in the schools of Paw Paw and at Berkeley Springs Normal School, Marshall College, Shepherd College and West Virginia University.

She began her teaching career in Paw Paw when a girl of 16. The next post was in Philippi, W. Va., where she taught first grade for six years.

It was there she married Frank H. Proudfoot and both she and her husband contributed their services during World War I—he in Selective Service activities and she in Red Cross work.

Several years later, upon the death of her husband, she came to Cumberland and was a substitute teacher for two terms in the first grade at Virginia Avenue school.

From here, she went to Welch, W. Va., to teach one year, then transferred to Vivian, W. Va., where she served 17 years before ending her teaching career.

Hundreds of the boys and girls who found her first grade classroom the doorway to the temple of learning have achieved success in many professions, and many of them, like John Charles Thomas, the noted American baritone, find time to keep in touch with their first teacher.

Among the other hobbies which Mrs. Proudfoot enjoys are pen and ink sketching, oil and china painting and several kinds of needlework.

With good friends, it all adds up to a happy and rewarding way of life.

Coyle To Head Holy Name Unit

James Coyle, a member of St. Mary's parish here, yesterday was re-elected president of the Western Maryland Section of the Holy Name Society.

Other officers, named at a meeting in St. Michael's parish, Frostburg, are:

Alan Miller, St. Peter's, Westernport, vice president; Francis L. Werner, St. Patrick's, Cumberland, re-elected secretary; Charles Keating, St. Michael's, treasurer, and Claude Pope, St. Ann's, Avilton, marshal.

Rev. L. P. Landrigan, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church here, is spiritual director, and Rev. Francis F. Montgomery, administrator of St. Michael's Frostburg, assistant.

Area Firemen Endorse Road Safety Plan

Volunteers Hear State Official

The Allegany Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association at a meeting in Chapel Hill Hose House here yesterday afternoon, unanimously endorsed the program of action to prevent runaways on US Route 40 west of Frostburg and Cumberland.

The association commended in particular the plan of the Frostburg Safety Committee to have warning signs erected on the top of Big Savage Mountain. The plan has been approved for adoption by state authorities.

Benjamin R. Benson, of the State fire marshal's office, was a guest. He addressed the firemen on the duties of special deputy fire marshals and noted there are five assigned in this area. They are Harry DeHaven, Baltimore Pike; Joseph C. Stuckey, Corriganville; Woodrow Layman, Frostburg; John Priehard, Grantsville; and Cromwell Zembower, LaVale.

These men, working without pay or compensation of any kind, are empowered to order the removal of debris or other fire hazards, and to order the removal of condemned buildings which they determine are fire hazards, Benson said.

Delbert Valentine of District 16 Company, president of the association, presided and reported that there were four association officers and 16 companies present.

Several officers and members reported they had attended the anniversary of the Luke Volunteer Fire Company and others had visited other member companies at regular meetings.

Felix Foote, of Lonaconing was appointed to work with Rev. Andrew Agnew of Westernport, the association chaplain, to organize the annual memorial service to be held early in June in Westernport.

Foote was also instructed to contact the ladies auxiliary so an agreement could be reached on the date of this service.

Reports were given on the muscular dystrophy drive and on activities by member units during Fire Prevention Week.

Firemen were reminded that the Fire Extension Service of the University of Maryland will institute a course in instructor training in January 1956. The course will be given in 10 sessions, one night a week, in the Fire Service Building at College Park. Those interested should contact the Fire Extension Service at once, Valentine said.

Refreshments were served by members of Chapel Hill Hose Company and the next meeting was called for January at the Good Will Company in Lonaconing.

D'Alesandro Said Girding For Battle With Mahoney

Bitter Political Fight For Senate Seen

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (P)—An Italian peppercot and a scrappy Irish tenor were rubbing their campaign shoes in the resin box today in preparation for what may be the most explosive political fight in recent Maryland history.

George P. Mahoney, a singer of ballads and a political battler who frequently comes close but hasn't won yet, was first to weigh in for the fight for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate. He made his candidacy known yesterday.

Thomas D'Alesandro, mayor of Baltimore who has never lost in more than a score of elections, hasn't said the word yet.

But he isn't discouraging his followers.

Mahoney announced that the Anne Arundel County Board of Commissioners and State Central Committee were in his camp.

Displays Backing Statement

He displayed a statement signed by Ralph L. Lowman, chairman of the board of commissioners, and all seven of his colleagues which said the Democratic party ought to endorse Mahoney as a "candidate who can and will win the Senate seat" now held by Republican John Marshall Butler of Baltimore.

An identical resolution was adopted by the county's Democratic State Central Committee, State Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) and Mayor Arthur G. Ellington of Annapolis also were listed as Mahoney supporters.

Only one of the seven members of the county's central committee was not on record as a signed supporter of the Baltimore County contractor.

Mahoney's campaign headquarters said the seventh member, William W. Townsend Jr., was on a hunting trip in South Carolina and could not be reached.

Mahoney headquarters said of the Anne Arundel endorsement:

"Anne Arundel backing for Mahoney is particularly significant in view of the fact that the county's seven unit votes were crucial ones, the loss of which in the 1954 primary cost Mahoney the party's nomination for the governorship."

"In last year's primary, county leaders backed Dr. H. C. Byrd, who carried the county, although Mahoney, without organization backing, polled a surprising 7,192 votes to a total of 9,496, by Byrd. A 'switch' of the Anne Arundel unit votes would have given Mahoney the nomination."

Rolls Over All Opponents

D'Alesandro has rolled over all political opponents who opposed him for City Council, Legislature, five terms in Congress and three as mayor.

Mahoney began running for office in 1950 when he took on W. Preston Lane Jr., seeking re-election as governor. He got more popular votes than Lane, but lost on the unit vote system.

Lane was defeated in the general election by Republican Gov. McKeldin. Two years later, Mahoney bested Lansdale G. Sasser, Southern Marylander who served seven straight terms in the House of Representatives, in a contest for the Senate nomination. But Republican J. Glenn Beall defeated Mahoney in the general election.

In 1954, Mahoney lost to Byrd in a close fight for the party's nomination as governor. Byrd was swamped by McKeldin in the general election.

Butler will be opposed in the primary by D. John Markey, Frederick Republican, who drew more votes than Butler in 1950, but lost the primary election on the unit vote system.

Police Check Theft Of $500 From Maccabees

Cash And Whisky Stolen From Club

City Police are probing the theft of nearly $500 in cash and whisky from the Maccabees, 24 Bedford Street, sometime between 1 a. m. and 1:45 yesterday morning.

The owner of a nearby tavern, on his way home early Sunday morning, discovered a side door of the Maccabees clubrooms standing open. He notified police about 1:50 a. m. Sgt. James Brown and Officer Edward Wilson investigated and called the owner of the club, Fred J. Hillebrecht, 22 Bedford Street.

After investigating, Hillebrecht told authorities that several half pints of whisky and about $400 in bills and silver in a plastic bottle used as a bank were missing.

Investigation showed that a rear window to the building was unlocked but that the blinds and curtains were undisturbed. No marks were found on the windows or doorway, police said.

The club owner said he closed the place about 12:45 a. m. Sunday, at the end of Saturday night's business, and that all windows and doors in the building were locked. Officer James Bolyard, walking his beat, later checked the clubrooms about 1 o'clock and found everything locked and in order.

A tenant in an upstairs apartment told investigators she heard a noise in the Maccabees room about 1:30 that morning but thought at the time it was the club owner cleaning up.

Police meanwhile are checking several leads in the breaking and entering.

Christmas Seal Sale Returns Reach $10,242

Returns from the 1955 Christmas Seal sale passed the $10,000 mark last week, according to Glenn K. Davis, Seal Sale chairman.

Total returns were $10,242.31 last Friday afternoon after receipts of $2,378.75 during the week.

Proceeds from the Christmas seals will be used to finance the activities of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association during the coming year.

Davis said the association has received 8,245 returns to date, including duplicates, from the 38,741 letters mailed several weeks ago to citizens of Allegany and Garrett Counties.

Returns from Cumberland and the smaller communities of Allegany County totaled $7,201.90, up about $200 from this time last year.

The Frostburg seal sale totals $1,151.25, down about $100, and Westernport was $570.50, about $50 over returns this week last year.

Garrett County seal returns are at the $1,105.65 mark, about $100 under last year.

Report Duplicates

Total returns from the sale, Davis said, are about $25 under this time last year.

He said Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary, noted that about 300 duplicates have been reported so far, and that the cooperation of those who report duplicates will be a great help in keeping the files up to date.

Today's Sermonette

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon delivered Friday at Ber Chayim Synagogue by the spiritual leader, Rabbi Daniel Lowy. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

What Is Prayer?

By RABBI DANIEL LOWY

Every Sabbath, we join with our religious leaders in reciting prayers, formulas, and supplications to God in our house of worship. However, few of us stop to meditate on the significance of what we are doing. What is the purpose of uttering these words? What does prayer mean in our lives? What are we trying to accomplish through the act of prayer?

Perhaps the answer can be found in a congregational meditation contained in our prayerbook. It begins with the following comment:

"O Lord, how can we know Thee? Where can we find Thee? Thou art as close to us as breathing, and yet art farther than the farthest star. Thou art as mysterious as the vast solitudes of the night, and yet art as familiar to us as the light of the sun."

There is a paradox which welds into a unity the feelings of separation and belonging, of the here and the beyond, the mystery and the revealed, the miracle and the law. God is at once both near and far. On the one hand, we are told that man's achievements are as naught when compared with Him. Nations are only a drop in the bucket. The Prophet Isaiah comments that a thousand years are in His sight, but as yesterday when it is passed. On the other hand, we also learn in the Bible of a personal God, who communes with the patriarchs, Moses, Job, and our prophets and kings.

Since religion equally emphasizes the exalted and intimate nature of our Creator, it is often filled with a feeling of tension within which it strains and yearns. It is filled with an anxiety because of the remoteness of God and with a longing for His proximity; but at the same time, it is certain in the possession of Him. Anxiety and confidence unite. The certainty of possession of God becomes a yearning for man for the Eternal God, who has entered his life as his Creator, but nevertheless remains infinite. It is a yearning for the Supreme Ruler of heaven and earth, with Whom man knows himself to be united, and yet distinct.

This creates a tension in man: a driving urge to overcome the feeling of God's remoteness; a yearning to know the true meaning of life, and to possess a constant feeling of God's presence. This is the very foundation of prayer. Only the mature individual, who recognizes the paradox, his dependence upon his Creator who is at once personal and impersonal, can experience the yearning. When such tension is not felt, man often makes the mistake of trying to dissolve himself into the infinite saying, "I am God." He is lost, and in his attempt to grasp on to something concrete, he seeks to deify himself. He feels self-sufficient and sees no need of prayer or communication with a higher being.

Genuine prayer can only be offered on the basis of tension aroused in mature human beings through fear, knowledge, trust and understanding, the note of certainty coupled with the note of anxiety. Even the wording of our meditations testify as to the significance of this paradox. The Bible also recognizes the contrast, by using the two words, He and Thou interchangeably, even in the same sentence.

Psalm 9—"The Lord is a high tower for the oppressed, a high tower in times of trouble, and they that know Thy name put their trust in Thee; for Thou, Lord has not forsaken them that seek Thee. He shall cover Thee with His pinions, and under His wings shalt Thou take refuge."

Again and again, we find this shift from He to Thou, and from Thou to He. In these waves of emotion, there is a constant grasping, and seeking, by which the He always becomes Thou. Through prayer, man apprehends God, makes Him his own, and feels assured of Him. He discovers the path from God to his soul, and back again to God. He understands why we conceive of a living and personal God, who embraces all things and penetrates into the innermost existence of man. He is able to view God on both the immanent and transcendent level, and treasure the contrast. And from his heart pours forth the poetry of both yearning and profound realization as he utters the words, To the seer of old, Thou didst say, "Thou cannot not see my face but I will make all my goodness pass before Thee." Even so does Thy goodness pass before us in the calm of nature and in the varied experiences of our lives. When justice burns like a flaming fire within us, when love evokes willing sacrifice from us, when, to the last full measure of selfless devotion, we proclaim our ultimate belief in the triumph of truth and righteousness, do we not bow down before the vision of Thy goodness? Thou livest within our heart, as Thou dost pervade the world, and we through righteousness behold Thy presence.

Amen.

Work On Sewage Unit Nearing Halfway Mark

The construction of this city's $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant is almost half completed and work is moving faster than scheduled in spite of weather conditions and rock encountered on the job, according to Mayor Roy W. Eves.

Work accomplished during November, he said, brought the project to 47 per cent of completion and found the Moyer Brothers Company, contractor for the job, still a month ahead of schedule.

Mayor Roy W. Eves said Edward A. Kidd, project engineer, reports November saw the completion in record time of a tunnel which will carry a sewer under the B & O tracks and the start of a second tunnel in the Mapleside section.

Crews Hit Rock

This second tunnel is the kind that separates the men from the boys.

The tunnel so far, Kidd reported, is all rock which has to be blasted loose before it can be removed. Some 40 feet of tunnel had been completed by December 3.

Crews laying 24-inch pipe in the brickyard property also encountered rock and had to resort to blasting for the trenches.

More than 500 cubic yards of concrete were poured on various structures within the 10-acre plant site last month and each pour had to be protected from freezing by the use of oil and electric heaters.

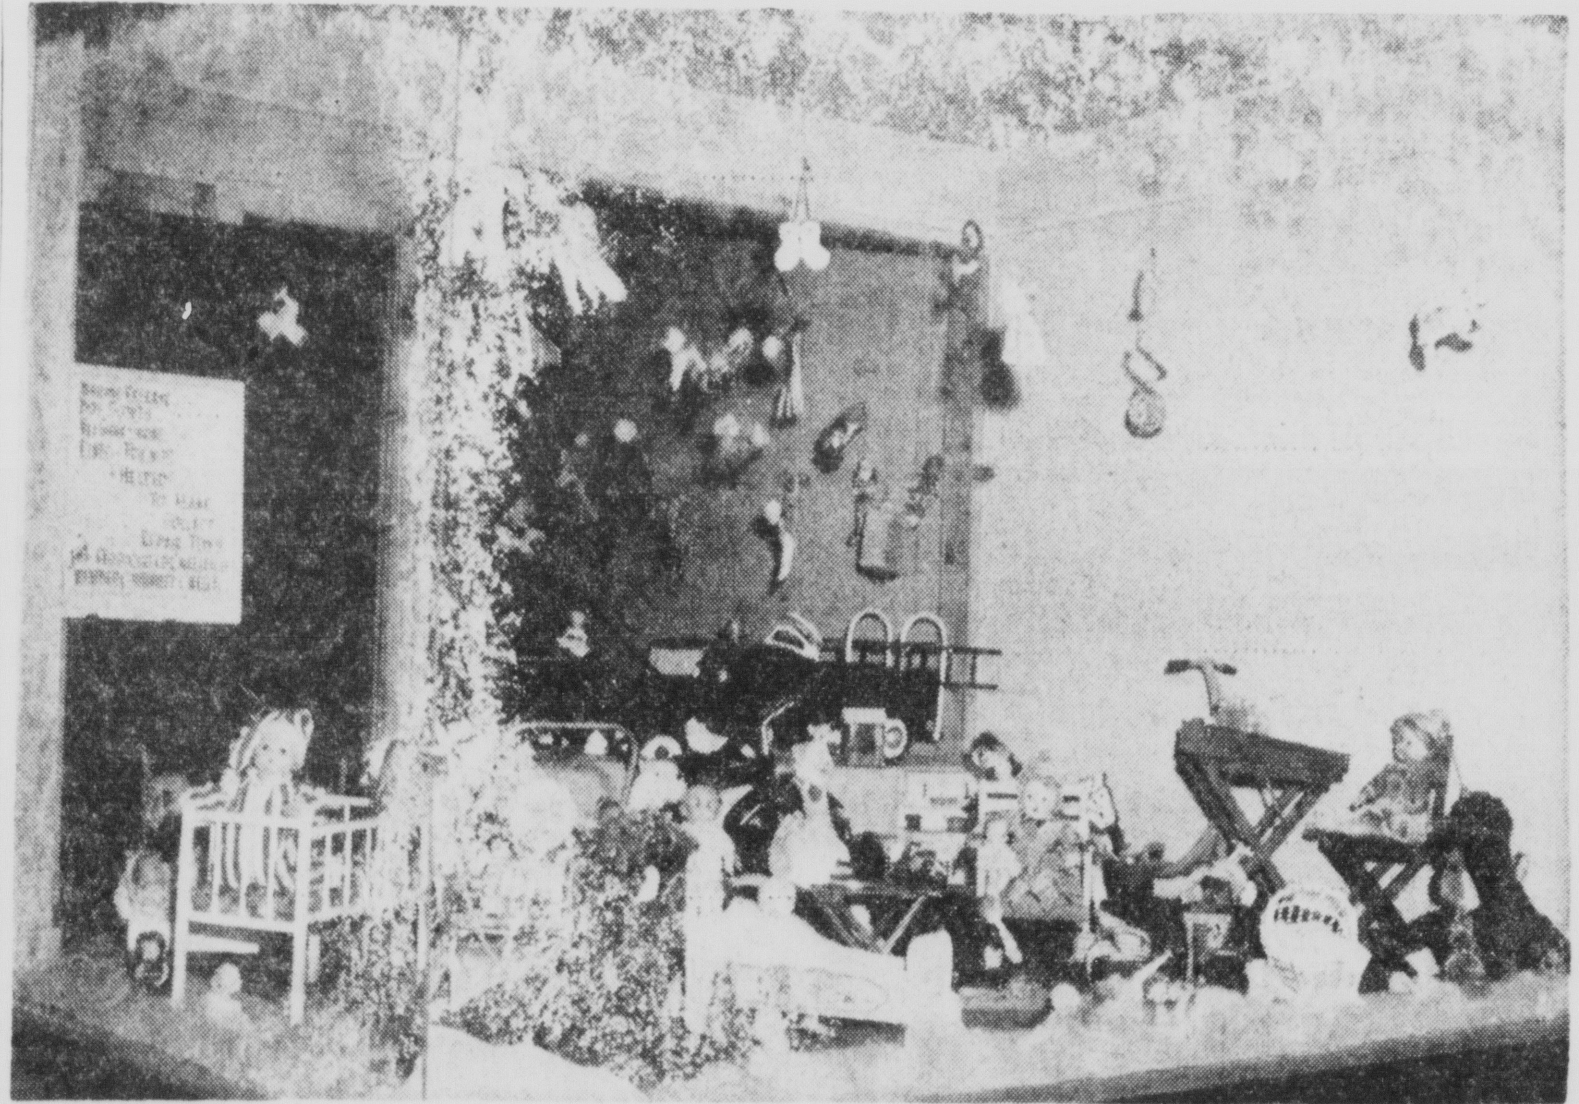

Make Big Pour

Biggest concrete job on the project was a continuous pour totaling 350 cubic yards on November 2 for the foundation of the main pumping station of the plant. The operation required more than 24 hours of continuous work.

Crews began pouring concrete for the slab at 1:30 a. m. and quit work at noon.

Other crews were working on the stone paving of the levee which will protect the plant from Potomac River floods, filling in the plant site and various pipe and construction jobs.

Ground for the primary treatment plant, needed to allow the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant to use river water for industrial purposes, was broken here February 22.

Toy Distribution Slated This Week

Displayed in the window of the Associated Charities' toy center are a few of the more than 10,000 toys which will be distributed for the less unfortunate children of the community beginning tomorrow. Friends of the Red Feather agency are invited to come to the workshop at 75 North Centre Street today to see the great variety of toys which have been turned over to the agency by the many organizations and individuals who have assisted in the toy collection and repair project.

SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Two Men Hurt In Auto Crash At Mt. Savage

Police Investigate Several Collisions

Two men were badly injured early yesterday when the car in which they were riding failed to negotiate a curve on Route 36 in Mt. Savage and crashed against a home.

Admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital were Francis Michaels, 26, of Bowling Green, and Thomas H. Joiner, 25, of Mt. Savage. Both were listed in "fair" condition last night.

Michaels, driver of the car, was suffering from a left ankle injury and complained of face, chest and shoulder injuries. Joiner, riding with him, suffered a fractured left leg and multiple lacerations.

Trooper R. D. Wolford said the accident occurred about 5:20 a. m. yesterday as Michaels, driving north on Route 36, failed to make a right hand turn, went out of control and hit a home on the Cessna turn on the lower end of Mt. Savage.

State Police investigated two other auto mishaps yesterday in which one person was slightly injured.

Mrs. Betty Reeder, Bedford, Pa., was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital for face lacerations suffered when the car in which she was riding collided with another near Belle Grove, about 25 miles east of here.

Trooper Lindberg Cook brought the injured woman to the hospital after investigating the two-car crash. Cook said the Reeder car, driven by Ray L. Reeder and occupied by his wife and two children, smashed head-on into a vehicle, driven by Claude O. Caskey Sr., of Martinsburg, on a small bridge.

Reeder, his children and Mr. and Mrs. Caskey were unhurt in the collision.

In a separate accident on Polish Mountain a car operated by Clarence C. VanMeter, 58, of Flint, Md., hit another vehicle driven by Roy Ketterman, 24, of Annapolis. Trooper Cook said Van Meter, driving east, attempted a left turn into Polish Mountain Inn and struck the left side of Ketterman's car which was traveling west toward Cumberland.

Damage to the two vehicles was estimated at $350 but neither of the two men, who were riding alone, was injured.

Four men narrowly escaped serious injury in a head-on collision Saturday night at Wiley Ford.

Treated at Memorial Hospital and released were Thomas Rigglesman, 23, of 44 Virginia Street, Keyser; William Haines, 21, of 342 Virginia Street, Keyser; Frank Metz, 31, of 91 Henderson Avenue, and Paul Geatz, 27, Valley Road.

Fire Destroys Midland Home

Fire destroyed the home of Mrs. Catherine Brinegar, Vale Summit Road, about one-half mile from Midland, at an early hour this morning.

Midland Fire Company received a call shortly after midnight and called upon Frostburg and other neighboring communities for assistance. Firemen were unable to save the dwelling as it was enveloped in flames when they arrived.

Sketchy details from the scene indicated that no one was injured in the blaze and occupants of the house escaped. There were no early estimates of damage or probable cause and firemen remained at the scene at 2 a. m.

Firemen Quench Excelsior Blaze

South Cumberland Fire Company was called to the B&O Rolling Mill yard yesterday afternoon when excelsior used to protect pipe being shipped here for the North Branch water line was set afire.

Firemen said children scattered piles of excelsior and then set it afire.

The merry blaze spread to timbers on which iron beams were stacked and ignited the timbers.

Fire fighters, on the scene for almost an hour, said damage was negligible.

Making Dolls Is Rewarding Hobby Of Retired Teacher

By C. WESLEY BLACKBURN
News Staff Writer

Making dolls which cause the eyes of little girls to glow like Christmas candles is one of the rewarding hobbies of Mrs. Ella Larkin Proudfoot, 532 Cumberland Street.

Never one to hold her hands and feet, Mrs. Proudfoot has found, since her retirement from an active teaching career 15 years ago, that keeping busy is one of the best roads to contentment.

The hobby started back in the 1920s. When Mrs. Proudfoot began a doll collection while teaching in Welch, W. Va.

Now numbering about 197 dolls, the collection includes famous characters in art, history, literature, religion and foreign countries. She has shown her doll collection to a number of organizations here including the Sacred Heart Hospital Auxiliary, of which she is an active member.

While living in Florida shortly after her retirement, she expanded the doll hobby to include the making of dolls for commercial purposes.

So far, she has sold 153 dolls and given away another 47 for charitable purposes and as gifts.

Entirely hand made, her dolls are cut from original patterns, with yarn hair, natural looking hands, embroidered features—and real rouge on their rosy cheeks.

Types include a Colonial doll, which she sells through commercial channels, a boy doll, cuddle doll and a two-face model which is asleep or awake, depending upon which side is turned.

Mrs. Proudfoot learned the art of needlework well from her mother during her childhood years in Paw Paw, W. Va.

She was educated in the schools of Paw Paw and at Berkeley Springs Normal School, Marshall College, Shepherd College and West Virginia University.

She began her teaching career in Paw Paw when a girl of 16. The next post was in Philippi, W. Va., where she taught first grade for six years.

Mahoney announced that the Anne Arundel County Board of Commissioners and State Central Committee were in his camp.

Displays Backing Statement

He displayed a statement signed by Ralph L. Lowman, chairman of the board of commissioners, and all seven of his colleagues which said the Democratic party ought to endorse Mahoney as a "candidate who can and will win the Senate seat" now held by Republican John Marshall Butler of Baltimore.

An identical resolution was adopted by the county's Democratic State Central Committee. State Sen. Louis N. Phipps (D-Anne Arundel) and Mayor Arthur G. Ellington of Annapolis also were listed as Mahoney supporters.

Only one of the seven members of the county's central committee was not on record as a signed supporter of the Baltimore County contractor.

Mahoney's campaign headquarters said the seventh member, William W. Townsend Jr., was on a hunting trip in South Carolina and could not be reached.

Mahoney headquarters said of the Anne Arundel endorsement: "Anne Arundel backing for Mahoney is particularly significant in view of the fact that the county's seven unit votes were crucial ones, the loss of which in the 1954 primary cost Mahoney the party's nomination for the governorship."

"In last year's primary, county leaders backed Dr. H. C. Byrd, who carried the county, although Mahoney, without organization backing, polled a surprising 7,192 votes to a total of 9,496, by Byrd. A 'switch' of the Anne Arundel unit votes would have given Mahoney the nomination."

Rolls Over All Opponents

D'Alesandro has rolled over all political opponents who opposed him for City Council, Legislature, five terms in Congress and three as mayor.

Mahoney began running for office in 1950 when he took on W. Preston Lane Jr., seeking re-election as governor. He got more popular votes than Lane, but lost on the unit vote system.

Lane was defeated in the general election by Republican Gov. McKeldin. Two years later, Mahoney bested Lansdale G. Sasser, Southern Marylander who served seven straight terms in the House of Representatives, in a contest for the Senate nomination. But Republican J. Glenn Beall defeated Mahoney in the general election.

In 1954, Mahoney lost to Byrd in a close fight for the party's nomination as governor. Byrd was swamped by McKeldin in the general election.

Butler will be opposed in the primary by D. John Markey, Frederick Republican, who drew more votes than Butler in 1950, but lost the primary election on the unit vote system.

Completes Course

Charles D. Airesman was recently awarded a diploma in the theory and practice of gemology by the Gemological Institute of America, at Los Angeles. Holders of these diplomas are known as graduate gemologists and are recognized by the industry as the specialists of the gem field.

Del. Lester B. Reed, member of the House of Delegates who resides near Mt. Savage, has also been invited to attend the session, Bowers said.

Police Check Theft Of $500 From Maccabees

Cash And Whisky Stolen From Club

City Police are probing the theft of nearly $500 in cash and whisky from the Maccabees, 24 Bedford Street, sometime between 1 a. m. and 1:45 yesterday morning.

The owner of a nearby tavern, on his way home early Sunday morning, discovered a side door of the Maccabees clubrooms standing open. He notified police about 1:30 a. m. Sgt. James Brown and Officer Edward Wilson investigated and called the owner of the club, Fred J. Hillebrecht, 22 Bedford Street.

After investigating, Hillebrecht told authorities that several half pints of whisky and about $400 in bills and silver in a plastic bottle used as a bank were missing.

Investigation showed that a rear window to the building was unlocked but that the blinds and curtains were undisturbed. No marks were found on the windows or doorway, police said.

The club owner said he closed the place about 12:45 a. m. Sunday, at the end of Saturday night's business, and that all windows and doors in the building were locked. Officer James Bolyard, walking his beat, later checked the clubrooms about 1 o'clock and found everything locked and in order.

A tenant in an upstairs apartment told investigators she heard a noise in the Maccabees room about 1:30 that morning but thought at the time it was the club owner cleaning up.

Police meanwhile are checking several leads in the breaking and entering.

Christmas Seal Sale Returns Reach $10,242

Returns from the 1955 Christmas Seal sale passed the $10,000 mark last week, according to Glenn K. Davis, Seal Sale chairman.

Total returns were $10,242.31 last Friday afternoon after receipts of $2,378.75 during the week.

Proceeds from the Christmas seals will be used to finance the activities of the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association during the coming year.

Get 8,245 Returns
Davis said the association has received 8,245 returns to date, including duplicates, from the 38,741 letters mailed several weeks ago to citizens of Allegany and Garrett Counties.

Returns from Cumberland and the smaller communities of Allegany County totaled $7,201.90, up about $200 from this time last year.

The Frostburg seal sale totals $1,151.25, down about $100, and Westernport was $370.50, about $50 over returns this week last year. Garrett County seal returns are at the $1,105.65 mark, about $100 under last year.

Report Duplicates
Total returns from the sale, Davis said, are about $25 under this time last year.

He said Miss Jean Reinhard, executive secretary, noted that about 300 duplicates have been reported so far, and that the cooperation of those who report duplicates will be a great help in keeping the files up to date.
